Navy Rush For Cannon Part Cost Taxpayers $120,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy paid three times more to get cannon parts on a rush basis than it already was paying another supplier and a congressman says—still got them late.

Rep. Fred Rooney, D-Pa., said an investigator for the Government Accounting Office called the rush contract "a classical case of procurement bungling," although a GAO report did not find the award illegal or made in bad faith.

The GAO, in a report demanded by Rooney, said the cost to taxpayers for the rush job was $120,000, of which $120,000 went for speed alone.

The GAO said it could find no evidence that the Navy contacted the lower-cost supplier to see if the airplane parts could be obtained quickly at the lesser price.

The ultimate delivery schedule for the emergency contract proved to be later than that of the routine contract at one-third the price, Rooney said.

As a result of findings, Rooney said, the GAO has begun an investigation of $5-billion worth of annual emergency procurements by the Defense Department.

GAO's investigation will focus particular attention on those rush orders which involve non-competitive negotiated contracts with so-called sole-source producers, the congressman said.

Noting that GAO did not find the contract illegal, Rooney said to have done so "would have been a paper victory at best and would have served no useful purpose for the public good nor the national interest."

Rooney said that by the time GAO had concluded its probe of the emergency contract to York, Pa., Division of American Machine Foundry Co., for 2,000 breechblock locks, the Navy had accepted delivery and already subjected many of them to combat service in Southeast Asia.

"It is enough to say the Navy needlessly wasted about $120,000 when it awarded the emergency procurement contract to York AMF last May," Rooney said.

"This incredible information places this Navy Department procurement on a par with a Keystone Cops comedy."

The target of Rooney's criticism was an award to York AMF for the 2,000 parts to 20-millimeter aircraft cannons at a unit price of $97.13.

The emergency procurement was authorized more than a month after a routine supply contract for the identical part was awarded to Newbould Tool Co., also of York, Pa., at a unit price of $37.75.

Roundtown

ANOTHER sneaky 4-way stop intersection has sprung up in Circleville. The newest one is at Pickaway and Town Sts. It takes motorists who use the streets regularly several days to become accustomed to the stop signs, so Circleville Police urge everybody to use extreme caution at the intersection.

THE weather forecast for Friday in the Roundtown area bears repeating. The local weather observer has predicted snow, turning to rain and slightly warmer temperatures. The fickleness of March continues.

A NEW flag is flying over the offices of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department today. The flag of the State of Ohio was presented to the sheriff's department by State Representative Myrl Shoemaker.

APRIL was officially proclaimed Industrial Safety Month in Circleville by Mayor Richard L. Gerhardt Thursday. Mayor Gerhardt joined with Governor Rhodes in asking all citizens to give thought and action toward the elimination of existing industrial hazards during this month.

Martial Law Brings Calm To Pakistan

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — The resignation of President Mohammed Ayub Khan and the imposition of martial law have restored calm to Pakistan.

Schools and universities opened today for the first time in four months. Mills and factories neared full production again after a series of strikes.

Neither order mentioned Laos. The effect, however, was to concentrate more and more planes in attacks on the Ho Chi Minh trail, the last remaining area where bombing could get at the major enemy supply line. As the warplanes concentrated, so did the increasingly sophisticated enemy defense network. Mobile, radar-controlled 20mm anti-aircraft guns now accompany major supply movements down the trail. Even heavier guns are at so-called choke-points. Lighter 37mm guns are all over the place.

"These aren't just jungle raids any more," one flier reported. "There are no 'soft spots.' It's just as bad as it was up north."

'ke's Condition Deteriorating, Doctors Report

Treatment Fails To Bring About Any Improvement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower "continues to grow weaker," his doctors said today.

In a morning medical bulletin from Walter Reed Army Hospital the doctors reported the five-star general is "sleeping for longer periods" but when awake is lucid enough to converse with members of his immediate family.

His physicians said late Wednesday his condition was deteriorating and he was not responding to treatment for the severe heart congestion threatening his life.

Their latest report, read to newsmen by Brig. Gen. Frederic J. Hughes Jr., hospital commanding general, said evidence of Eisenhower's potentially fatal congestive heart failure "continue unchanged."

Meanwhile Mamie Eisenhower "remains close" to the general's bedside and is "a constant source of support and encouragement both to the general and others present," it added.

The doctors' reference Wednesday to his failure to respond to treatment "is considered an unfavorable prognostic sign," the bulletin said.

Asks Divorce Because Man Did All Work

LONDON (AP) — After 13 years of marriage, Doreen Baker said she couldn't go on living with a man who did all the cooking, cleaning and shopping.

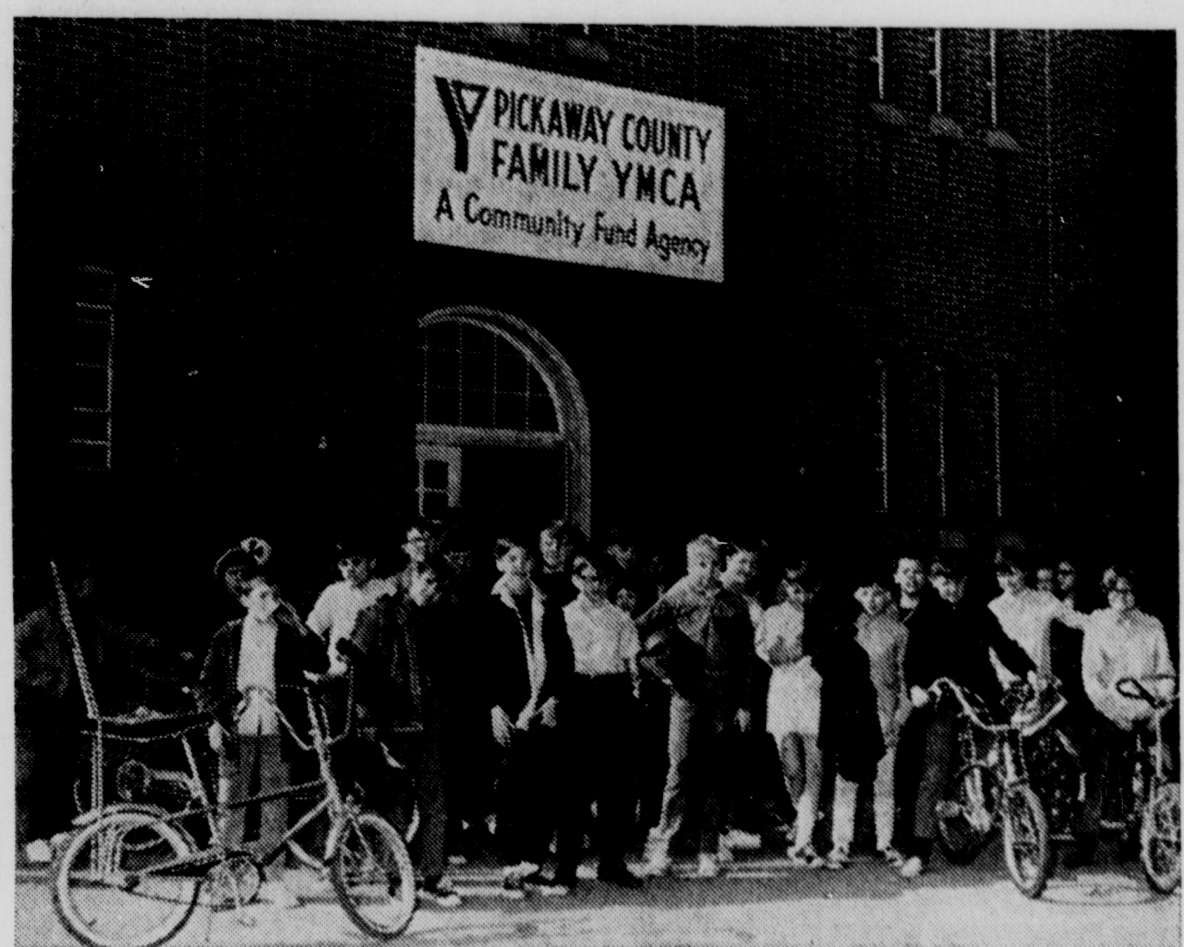

She tried Wednesday to get a divorce from 58-year-old Frederick Baker, charging him with refusing to allow her "the status of a normal housewife." That was cruelty, she claimed.

Her lawyer told Judge Stanley Rees that Mrs. Baker, 41, was allowed only once in her married life to go shopping on her own. When she returned home, her husband examined all her purchases and found these three mistakes—

1. She had bought a shopping bag for 4 cents although there was a good one at home she could have used.
2. She had bought a brand of flour that cost 5 cents more than the kind Baker always bought.
3. She had gone to the butcher shop "on the wrong day and had consequently bought unsatisfactory meat."

"What probably made it all the harder for her to bear was that he was correct on all three points," the judge commented.

But he turned down Mrs. Baker's request for a divorce, ruling that although her husband may have been "irritating and tactless" he was never cruel. The judge added that Baker had written to his wife, telling her if she came home he would share the housework with her.

U.S. Casualty Rate Drops, But 266 GIs Slain In Week

SAIGON (AP) — American battlefield deaths in Vietnam dropped 25 per cent last week to the lowest weekly toll of the Viet Cong spring offensive, the U.S. Command announced today.

But the 266 Americans killed in action pushed the total for the war to within 300 of total combat fatalities in the Korean war.

The 266 dead—85 less than the week before—brought the total American combat dead for the eight-year-old war to 33,329. The total in the three-year Korean War was 33,629.

The U.S. Command also announced that 1,362 Americans were wounded in action last week, 61 more than the previous week. This brought the total American wounded reported in the war to 209,045.

In the first four weeks since the Viet Cong launched their spring offensive Feb. 23, 1,406 Americans have been killed. The heaviest toll was during the first week of the offensive, when 453 U.S. troops were killed.

A U.S. spokesman said apparently part of the reason for the reduction in the number of American deaths last week was that the enemy was not following up his nightly rocket and mortar attacks on U.S. bases with infantry assaults as frequently as he did earlier in the offensive. He said North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops were breaking off contact more quickly when engaged by sweeping American forces.

While U.S. casualties dropped last week those of the South Vietnamese forces went up slightly and considerably exceeded the American total. The government said 337 of its soldiers were killed and 1,537 were wounded, compared with 320 killed and 1,156 wounded the week before.

The offensive continued to prove costly for the enemy, although his casualties also were considerably reduced. The allied commands reported 3,873 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed last week, compared to a revised total of 4,336 the week before.

By U.S. count, the enemy has lost 19,101 troops in the first four weeks of his offensive. South Vietnamese dead in that period total 1,442. With the 1,406 Americans killed, the allied total is 2,848 dead, or a kill ratio of about seven to one in favor of the South Vietnamese and Americans.

Ohio Demos Force Delay In Tax Assessment Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Senate Democrats have forced the Republican majority to wait until Monday to take action on a bill to delay until 1972 a statewide uniform assessment of real property.

The bill was introduced just two weeks ago and made it out of committee after one hearing. The bill's sponsor, Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, said earlier the legislature had to move fast and get the bill passed.

Maloney said the Board of Tax Appeals and the governor's office agree that a delay until 1972 is necessary, but that the board had to go ahead with hearings this week or possibly "be threatened with contempt of court proceedings."

The board held hearings on a proposed amendment to its regulations to set a statewide uniform assessment of real property at 40 per cent, retroactive to Jan. 1, 1969.

Carney, the Senate's minority leader, said the Democrats "fully realize the shock of the Supreme Court decision" man dating a statewide uniform assessment of real property, but don't like the idea of rushing legislation through.

Conglomerate And Government Reach Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department and Ling-Temco-Vought Inc. have reached a temporary agreement in their dispute over acquisition of Jones Laughlin Steel Corp. But the government still hopes to block the huge conglomerate's takeover of J.L.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, announcing the agreement Wednesday night, said an antitrust suit challenging the merger will be filed April 15.

The government will sue to force LTV, the nation's 14th largest corporation, to divest itself completely of stock in J.L., the country's sixth largest steel company. LTV already owns 63 per cent and wants to buy more.

Mitchell said that the two sides had agreed to a temporary injunction setting up conditions under which the two companies could easily be separated if the government wins its antitrust suit.

Smothers Brothers To Keep TV Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Smothers Brothers, who had threatened to withdraw their television show from CBS as a protest against censorship, have had a change of heart and will carry on next fall.

Tom Smothers, who produces the show, explained Wednesday: "I feel we can help force a new policy...by being on the air rather than off the air."

This is the official explanation of an air campaign on some days involving the warplanes of three aircraft carriers, perhaps 200 Air Force fighter-bombers in Thailand, assorted reconnaissance and electronic flights, plus a half dozen or more raids by B52 Stratofortresses, essentially the same force, without the B52s, used in North Vietnam.

No word of this activity appears in communiques issued from U.S. headquarters in Saigon.

In public, spokesmen give a standard reply to all queries: "At the request of the royal Laotian government, we fly some reconnaissance missions over Laotian territory. These are escorted by armed aircraft with instructions to return fire if fired upon."

Claims Test Of Combat Theory Wanted

WASHINGTON (AP) — A war-hungry military shot through with interservice rivalry is pictured by former Marine commandant David M. Shoup as encouraging the Johnson administration to widen the Vietnam war in 1964.

The general, who retired from the Joint Chiefs of Staff just before the events he describes in the current Atlantic Monthly, said "an aggressive military" persuaded the civilian leaders to drop their longstanding opposition to a land war in Asia.

Shoup, a frequent critic of the U.S. role in Vietnam, contends the military brass wanted to test new equipment and young troops and to put hypothetical problems to work in the battlefield.

Adm. David L. McDonald, retired chief of naval operations who served briefly with Shoup and remained on the Joint Chiefs during the period described, said he thought no purpose would be served by commenting on the former Marine chief's article.

"It wouldn't do any good," McDonald said from his retirement home in Florida. "They're Shoup's views, and I presume he feels he can substantiate them."

"But I'm just a has-been. And, I might say, so is Shoup." Other members of the Joint Chiefs were unavailable for comment.

Shoup wrote of "belligerent," "glory-seeking" military leaders competing with each other to have their service play major roles in Vietnam.

"In Vietnam in 1965," he said, "the four services were racing to build up combat strength in that hapless country."

One sign of that eagerness, the general said, was competition between the Air Force and Navy over the bombing of North Vietnam.

"The punitive air strikes immediately following the Tonkin Gulf incident in late 1964," he wrote, "revealed the readiness of naval air forces to bomb North Vietnam. (It now appears that the Navy actually had attack plans ready even before the alleged incident took place!)"

The first air strikes against the North were ordered by President Johnson after charging that North Vietnamese gunboats had attacked U.S. naval boats in the area.

Shoup called the bombing effort "one of the most wasteful and expensive hoaxes ever to be put over on the American people." (Continued on Page 2)

U.N. Meet On Israeli Raids Sought

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Jordan set up a meeting of the U.N. Security Council today so it could ask for action to stop Israeli air raids on its territory.

Jordanian Ambassador Muhammad H. El-Fara requested the council meeting after Israeli planes raided around the town of Salt Wednesday. Jordan said 18 civilians were killed and 25 wounded.

El-Fara's letter to council President Karoly Csatorday of Hungary asked that the council adopt more adequate and effective measures to check Israeli acts of aggression.

Israel in announcing the raid said its planes attacked an Arab guerrilla base near Salt from which Israel had been attacked. It was expected to counter Jordan's demand with a demand that the council do something to halt Arab attacks on Israel.

No resolution censuring the Arabs stands a chance of council approval because of the Soviet veto. Israel therefore is certain to continue its reprisals for attacks by the Arab commandos no matter what action the council takes.

Freak Mishap Fatal To 2

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A bizarre accident early today resulted in the death of a good Samaritan and the man he had rescued from a burning auto.

Police said a car driven by Wilbur Hadley Jr., 31, Johnson County, Kan., skidded on wet pavement, sheared off a utility pole and overturned. The auto burst into flames.

Moments later, James Curley, 63, who lived in a nearby apartment house, ran to the wreckage and pulled Hadley from the smashed vehicle.

Police said that as Curley was helping Hadley from the scene he pushed aside some wires and was apparently electrocuted. Hadley stumbled and fell onto the downed lines in a puddle of water.

Both men were pronounced dead on arrival at Bethany Hospital.

Ohio Demos Force Delay In Tax Assessment Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Senate Democrats have forced the Republican majority to wait until Monday to take action on a bill to delay until 1972 a statewide uniform assessment of real property.

Shoup wrote of "belligerent," "glory-seeking" military leaders competing with each other to have their service play major roles in Vietnam.

"In Vietnam in 1965," he said, "the four services were racing to build up combat strength in that hapless country."

One sign of that eagerness, the general said, was competition between the Air Force and Navy over the bombing of North Vietnam.

"The punitive air strikes immediately following the Tonkin Gulf incident in late 1964," he wrote, "revealed the readiness of naval air forces to bomb North Vietnam. (It now appears that the Navy actually had attack plans ready even before the alleged incident took place!)"

The first air strikes against the North were ordered by President Johnson after charging that North Vietnamese gunboats had attacked U.S. naval boats in the area.

Shoup called the bombing effort "one of the most wasteful and expensive hoaxes ever to be put over on the American people" (Continued on Page 2)

U.N. Meet On Israeli Raids Sought

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Jordan set up a meeting of the U.N. Security Council today so it could ask for action to stop Israeli air raids on its territory.

Jordanian Ambassador Muhammad H. El-Farra requested the council meeting after Israeli planes raided around the town of Salt Wednesday. Jordan said 18 civilians were killed and 25 wounded.

El-Farra's letter to council President Karoly Csatorjay of Hungary asked that the council adopt more adequate and effective measures to check Israeli acts of aggression.

Israel in announcing the raid said its planes attacked an Arab guerrilla base near Salt from which Israel had been attacked.

It was expected to counter Jordan's demand with a demand that the council do something to halt Arab attacks on Israel.

No resolution censuring the Arabs stands a chance of council approval because of the Soviet veto. Israel therefore is certain to continue its reprisals for attacks by the Arab commandos no matter what action the council takes.

New Garden Page Editor Begins Weekly Feature

RUTH MONTELIUS

Ruth E. Montelius, Route 1, is the garden editor for The Herald this summer.

Her garden page, called "Over the Garden Gate" will appear each Thursday throughout the gardening season in Pickaway County.

An authority on gardening and roses, Miss Montelius is well qualified for the position.

She is a member of the Pickaway Garden Club, the American Rose Society and the Central Ohio Rose Society. An art student (Miss Montelius is currently an art teacher in the Westfall School District) she will from time to time illustrate her articles with original drawings.

MISS Montelius is well known in Pickaway County, having spent her entire life here.

She is a graduate of Miami University, Oxford, where she earned her bachelor of fine arts degree. She also is a certified dental assistant, having attended the University of North Carolina.

Freak Mishap Fatal To 2

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A bizarre accident early today resulted in the death of a good Samaritan and the man he had rescued from a burning auto.

Police said a car driven by Wilbur Hadley Jr., 31, Johnson County, Kan., skidded on wet pavement, sheared off a utility pole and overturned. The auto burst into flames.

Moments later, James Curley, 63, who lived in a nearby apartment house, ran to the wreckage and pulled Hadley from the smashed vehicle.

Police said that as Curley was helping Hadley from the scene he pushed aside some wires and was apparently electrocuted. Hadley stumbled and fell onto the downed lines in a puddle of water.

Both men were pronounced dead on arrival at Bethany Hospital.

Black Militants Thought Behind Cincy Holdup

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police Lt. Col. Elmer Reis says Wednesday's $29,500 robbery at the downtown First National Bank apparently was the work of black militants.

"Six weeks ago we received a telephone tip there would be some holdups of financial institutions by black militants with violence directed against employees," Reis reported.

The robbery occurred shortly before 1 p.m. Four persons, including the bank manager, were beaten with a pistol.

Reis said the four armed Negroes, wearing stocking masks, worked quickly and "the style of the robbery with the unnecessary force inflicted on the victim quickly brought to mind the warning we received."

The target now is the patchwork of camouflaged roads known as the Ho Chi Minh trail, twisting down through the tribal mountain country of supposedly neutral Laos.

That has been the steady shift since Johnson began pulling back the bombers to get peace talks moving in Paris—restricting the bombing to below the 17th parallel in his March 31 order and ending it completely over North Vietnam Nov. 1.

Roundtown

ANOTHER sneaky 4-way stop intersection has sprung up in Circleville.

The newest one is at Pickaway and Town Sts. It takes motorists who use the streets regularly several days to become accustomed to the stop signs, so Circleville Police urge everybody to use extreme caution at the intersection.

THE weather forecast for Friday in the Roundtown area bears repeating. The local weather observer has predicted snow, turning to rain and slightly warmer temperatures. The fickleness of March continues.

A NEW flag is flying over the offices of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department today. The flag of the State of Ohio was presented to the sheriff's department by State Representative Myrl Shoemaker.

APRIL was officially proclaimed Industrial Safety Month in Circleville by Mayor Richard L. Gerhardt Thursday. Mayor Gerhardt joined with Governor Rhodes in asking all citizens to give thought and action toward the elimination of existing industrial hazards during this month.

Martial Law Brings Calm To Pakistan

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — The resignation of President Mohammed Ayub Khan and the imposition of martial law have restored calm to Pakistan.

Schools and universities opened today for the first time in four months. Mills and factories neared full production again after a series of strikes.

Neither order mentioned Laos. The effect, however, was to concentrate more and more planes in attacks on the Ho Chi Minh trail, the last remaining area where bombing could get at the major enemy supply line.

As the warplanes concentrated, so did the increasingly sophisticated enemy defense network. Mobile, radar-controlled 52mm antiaircraft guns now accompany major supply movements down the trail. Even heavier guns are at so-called chokepoints. Lighter 37mm guns are all over the place.

"These aren't just jungle raids any more," one flier reported. "There are no 'soft spots.' It's just as bad as it was up north."

Officials refuse to give figures but the lowest responsible estimate of planes lost in the past five months is almost 100 Air Force planes, mostly F105 Thunderchiefs. Navy losses are not known but are very much lower since the Air Force is drawing about 85 per cent of the missions. One knowledgeable officer reported the loss rate has now settled down to about four planes weekly.

The number of pilots lost is similarly classified. An analysis of Pentagon statistics indicates about 45 pilots missing in action in Laos since Nov. 1.

Some sources in Vientiane, a capital of rumors and mysterious people loosely labeled Communist, non-Communist and neutralist, say as many as 100 pilots may be in jungled prison camps of the Pathet Lao, the Laotian version of the Viet Cong. These include pilots downed over several years.

None of these loss figures can be verified from official sources. Neither will officers in Saigon give any firm estimate of enemy losses.

It is worth an officer's job—and perhaps his career—to be quoted about the campaign in Laos. In private, staff officers and pilots make wry jokes about the war in "Country X."

In public, spokesmen give a standard reply to all queries: "At the request of the royal Laotian government, we fly some reconnaissance missions over Laotian territory. These are escorted by armed aircraft with instructions to return fire if fired upon."

This is the official explanation of an air campaign on some days involving the warplanes of three aircraft carriers, perhaps 200 Air Force fighter-bombers in Thailand, assorted reconnaissance and electronic flights, plus a half dozen or more raids by B52 Stratofortresses, essentially the same force, without the B52s, used in North Vietnam.

No word of this activity appears in communiques issued from U.S. headquarters in Saigon.

Demos Want Facts On Budget Slashes And Extended Tax New Garden . .

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats want President Nixon to disclose his recommendations for budget cutting and tax reform before committing themselves on extending the 10 per cent income tax surcharge. Nixon formally asked Congress Wednesday to extend the surcharge, worth about $10 billion in annual revenues, for a year beyond its June 30 expiration date. He said the government needs a strong budget surplus, along with a cautious monetary policy, to curb inflation. Democratic reaction in the House, where all tax legislation must originate, was publicly guarded. Speaker John W. McCormack told a news conference he supposes that, since Nixon asked for the extension, Congress will vote it.

The Ways and Means Committee, which writes tax legislation, simply said no hearings will be scheduled for the present. It is deep in public sessions on general tax reform. Privately, however, Democratic sources said party members resent what they regard as pressure to extend an unpopular tax before they know to what extent and in what programs Nixon intends to cut former President Johnson's last budget and whether the administration will support tax reforms in controversial fields. Nixon said in his tax message he intends to cut Johnson's budget for the year beginning July 1 significantly under the January estimates. But he did not say how. That budget called for about $195 billion in spending, but congressional analysts say some underestimates and subsequent cost increase raise it to about $197 billion.

The Democrat's best tactics in requiring Nixon to make the first move may be simply to delay hearings on the surtax. The legislation has a built-in deadline—June 30. In the Senate, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican on the Finance Committee, have urged spending cuts be tied to any surtax extension.

The business community expected and accepted the surtax proposal with little excitement. Another New York investment analyst, Monte Gordon of Bache & Co., commented: "Extension of the surcharge has been anticipated and discounted. I don't think there will be any reaction by the market."

Expect Decision By Canadians On NATO Soon

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau told the House of Commons Wednesday night he will announce in 10 days whether Canada will remain in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The decision about NATO is part of a general review of foreign policies the government has conducted for the past few months. On Wednesday a 30-member House of Commons committee on defense and foreign affairs recommended continued military participation. It had made a two-month study. "Canada should continue to maintain forces in Europe as a contribution to the collective defense arrangements of NATO," the committee report said because conflicts in Europe, unless speedily controlled, could develop into a destructive nuclear exchange in which Canada and its territory "would inevitably be affected."

Canada's present NATO forces consist of six air squadrons and a mechanized brigade. Ike's Condition

remains in critical condition and there had been a resumption of the deterioration of his heart's ability to function properly.

Tuesday, the doctors had reported success in arresting the deterioration which was hindering the ability of Eisenhower's heart to pump and adequately empty its chambers.

This was the condition that was resulting in the severe congestion.

In spite of the dim outlook, the general received visitors Wednesday night, including President Nixon who spent a few minutes talking with his former boss.

"The President was pleased to have the opportunity to see the general," said Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's news secretary. Ziegler said Nixon was not summoned to Eisenhower's bedside but had decided to come on his own.

Although Eisenhower's doctors continued to refer to his "impaired stamina" and his "astounding . . . will to live," they did tell newsmen the general could not survive without the treatment being used. They would not elaborate.

Previously, they had listed the following as the treatment being used: continuous oxygen, drugs to strengthen the heart and accumulation of fluids in body tissues.

Eisenhower's heart has been weakened by four heart attacks in the last 11 months. These attacks have led to the weakening of the heart muscles, which has resulted in the impaired pumping ability and congestion. His recuperative powers also were impaired by intestinal surgery and pneumonia.

Board Approves Budget, Names Disaster Chairman

The 1969-70 budget for Pickaway County Red Cross Chapter was read and approved by board members Wednesday night.

Howard Judd, chapter chairman noted that the seven per cent increase over the previous budget was in line with expenses incurred.

From the 1968 budget of $22,000, $13,600 was spent locally; $8,400 went to National Headquarters for support to the local chapter.

Local funds are used for operating facilities, general management, service to military families, the blood program, disaster (a difficult expenditure to forecast) first aid and water safety, nursing services, volunteer services, youth program supplies and public information.

"WITH a small amount of money and a lot of good volunteer help, Red Cross provides good community service," Judd remarked.

It was announced that W. W. Story, a former Red Cross blood chairman, has accepted the responsibility as a disaster chairman for Pickaway County. Recent local disasters have intensified the need for such an organization in the county.

Mrs. Roloff Wolford, executive secretary, reported service to 47 military families from February 26 to March 26.

The importance of the April 8 Bloodmobile visit to Circleville was stressed. It is necessary to meet the County's quota of 125 pints to assure complete coverage for the area.

A project has begun to provide continuing Youth Volunteer Service to VA hospital at Chillicothe. Any youths from Pickaway County may volunteer for this service project through the local Red Cross chapter. The one requirement is that the volunteer must be 16 years of age.

Mrs. Wolford recalled to the board's attention that March is traditionally Red Cross Month. This year, she is making a decided effort to thank the many organizations and persons who have made it possible for the Red Cross to function. "Red Cross gives service, but not without the help of the community," she said.

2 Are Charged With Log Theft

XENIA, Ohio (AP) —Two Ohio lumberjacks face charges of grand larceny in the theft of $5 walnut logs valued at $5,000.

Robert H. Jackson, 43, Washington Court House, and Richard Mitchell, 32, Chillicothe, pleaded innocent in county court here Tuesday night. Judge Raymond N. Heber scheduled a hearing for April 15 and set bonds at $1,000 for each.

Greene County Sheriff Russell A. Bradley said the logs, cut from a farm near James-town, were the object of a search that extended as far as West Virginia. Three of the logs were found in a lumber yard near Washington Court House.

Pork Council Makes Plans For Promotion

Final plans for pork promotion day in Ward's Market, Circleville, were made at the Thursday evening meeting of the Pickaway County Pork Council.

Pickaway County Pork Queen Debbie Young, aided by wives of Pork Council members will offer to shoppers tasty bit size portions of pork in Ward's Market on Saturday to promote the nutritious, good-eating quality of today's lean pork cuts.

The Council decided to award two trophies for the new open class barrow show at the Pickaway County Fair this year. The organization adopted its Constitution during the business meeting conducted by President Tom Boyer. Pete Everhart, Terry Reed, and Leroy Newlon will be available to 4-H Clubs, on request, for information as to selection, fitting and showing hogs.

David Gerber, Extension Area Agent Swine Industry, and George Hamrick, County Agent, discussed the cut-out of the barrows in the county barrow show conducted at Bowling Stockyards and Eckert Packing Co. on Feb. 24. Top barrow was owned by Walter Herron, Route 2; second place, Pete Everhart, Route 3; third, Robert Liston, Route 3; fourth, Clyde Herron, Route 2; and fifth, Terry Reed, Ashville. Pickaway Grain Co. furnished ribbons for the event.

Congress Eyes Rights Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's civil rights enforcement policies came under congressional scrutiny today as a Senate subcommittee opened hearings directed at recent decisions in the Pentagon and Department of Transportation.

The administrative practices and procedures subcommittee headed by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy planned to concentrate primarily on the way the Defense Department decided to award contracts to three southern textile companies and Transportation decided to rescind a procedure designed to guarantee non-discrimination.

Meanwhile, Shoup said, the Army and the Marines were waging a similar contest at tempting to outdo one another in getting troops into Vietnam.

The Democrat's best tactics in requiring Nixon to make the first move may be simply to delay hearings on the surtax. The legislation has a built-in deadline—June 30.

In the Senate, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican on the Finance Committee, have urged spending cuts be tied to any surtax extension.

The business community expected and accepted the surtax proposal with little excitement.

Another New York investment analyst, Monte Gordon of Bache & Co., commented: "Extension of the surcharge has been anticipated and discounted. I don't think there will be any reaction by the market."

Ike's Condition

remains in critical condition and there had been a resumption of the deterioration of his heart's ability to function properly.

Tuesday, the doctors had reported success in arresting the deterioration which was hindering the ability of Eisenhower's heart to pump and adequately empty its chambers.

This was the condition that was resulting in the severe congestion.

In spite of the dim outlook, the general received visitors Wednesday night, including President Nixon who spent a few minutes talking with his former boss.

"The President was pleased to have the opportunity to see the general," said Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's news secretary. Ziegler said Nixon was not summoned to Eisenhower's bedside but had decided to come on his own.

Although Eisenhower's doctors continued to refer to his "inherent stamina" and his "astounding... will to live," they did tell newsmen the general could not survive without the treatment being used. They would not elaborate.

Previously, they had listed the following as the treatment being used: continuous oxygen, drugs to strengthen the heart and accumulation of fluids in body tissues.

Eisenhower's heart has been weakened by four heart attacks in the last 11 months. These attacks have led to the weakening of the heart muscles, which has resulted in the impaired pumping ability and congestion.

His recuperative powers also were impaired by intestinal surgery and pneumonia.

ELECTION officials will be required to attend special training April 29, in preparation for the May primary election... Voting machines will be used for the first time in the county during the election... The new machines were delivered to the board of elections Thursday morning... Employees of the board of elections will be notified as to the time and place of the mandatory schooling, according to Bill Stout, chairman of the board of elections.

VOTERS from Circleville Twp. North will be reporting to a new polling place for the May primary... The poll will be at the offices of Elsea Inc., at 1211 N. Court St... Reason for the change in the voting place is to provide more parking space and a more central location for area voters, according to Bill Stout, chairman of the board of elections... Letters will be sent out to voters as reminders prior to the election.

Expect Decision By Canadians On NATO Soon

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau told the House of Commons Wednesday night he will announce in 10 days whether Canada will remain in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The decision about NATO is part of a general review of foreign policies the government has conducted for the past few months. On Wednesday a 30-member House of Commons committee on defense and foreign affairs recommended continued military participation. It had made a two-month study.

"Canada should continue to maintain forces in Europe as a contribution to the collective defense arrangements of NATO," the committee report said because conflicts in Europe, unless speedily controlled, could develop into a destructive nuclear exchange in which Canada and its territory "would inevitably be affected."

Canada's present NATO forces consist of six air squadrons and a mechanized brigade.

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — A certain chill has developed in relations between Frosty II and Fuzzy, polar bears in the Point Defiance Park zoo, and because of it Fuzzy may have suffered a broken hind leg.

"We strongly suspect that he belted her one," said zoo Director Norman Winnick.

Fuzzy, miffed as well as hurt, has moved in with her black bear cousins and veterinarians, who tentatively identified her injury as a break, are seeking information on treatment.

"There's very little information about this sort of thing,"

Water Safety School Seeks Candidates

Candidates for Aquatic School are being sought by Mike Alkire, water safety chairman of Pickaway County Chapter American Red Cross.

Necessary requirements are that the candidate be a good swimmer. A Senior Life Saving Certificate is helpful, but not required. The age limit has been lowered this year. An applicant must be 17 years of age before June 1.

The Ohio School for Water Safety Instructors will be held June 13-23 in Carrollton. Cost of the ten-day instruction will be paid by Red Cross.

Persons interested in attending the Aquatic School to become water safety instructors for Red Cross should contact Mike Alkire at 474-8132 or 474-4969.

Board Approves Budget, Names Disaster Chairman

The 1969-70 budget for Pickaway County Red Cross Chapter was read and approved by board members Wednesday night.

Howard Judd, chapter chairman noted that the seven per cent increase over the previous budget was in line with expenses incurred.

From the 1968 budget of $22,000, $13,600 was spent locally; $8,400 went to National Headquarters for support to the local chapter.

Local funds are used for operating facilities, general management, service to military families, the blood program, disaster (a difficult expenditure to forecast) first aid and water safety, nursing services, volunteer services, youth program supplies and public information.

"WITH a small amount of money and a lot of good volunteer help, Red Cross provides good community service," Judd remarked.

It was announced that W. W. Story, a former Red Cross blood chairman, has accepted the responsibility as disaster chairman for Pickaway County. Recent local disasters have intensified the need for such an organization in the county.

Mrs. Roliff Wolford, executive secretary, reported service to 47 military families from February 26 to March 26.

The importance of the April 8 Bloodmobile visit to Circleville was stressed. It is necessary to meet the County's quota of 125 pints to assure complete coverage for the area.

A project has begun to provide continuing Youth Volunteer Service to VA hospital at Chillicothe. Any youths from Pickaway County may volunteer for this service project through the local Red Cross chapter. The one requirement is that the volunteer must be 16 years of age.

Mrs. Wolford recalled to the board's attention that March is traditionally Red Cross Month. This year, she is making a decided effort to thank the many organizations and persons who have made it possible for the Red Cross to function. "Red Cross gives service, but not without the help of the community," she said.

2 Are Charged With Log Theft

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Two Ohio lumberjacks face charges of grand larceny in the theft of six walnut logs valued at $5,000.

Robert H. Jackson, 43, Washington Court House, and Richard Mitchell, 32, Chillicothe, pleaded innocent in county court here Tuesday night. Judge Raymond N. Heber scheduled a hearing for April 15 and set bonds at $1,000 for each.

Greene County Sheriff Russell A. Bradley said the logs, cut from a farm near Jamestown, were the object of a search that extended as far as West Virginia. Three of the logs were found in a lumber yard near Washington Court House.

Pork Council Makes Plans For Promotion

Final plans for pork promotion day in Ward's Market, Circleville, were made at the Thursday evening meeting of the Pickaway County Pork Council.

Pickaway County Pork Queen Debbie Young, aided by wives of Pork Council members will offer to shoppers tasty bite size portions of pork in Ward's Market on Saturday to promote the nutritious, good-eating quality of today's lean pork cuts.

The Council decided to award two trophies for the new open class barrow show at the Pickaway County Fair this year. The organization adopted its Constitution during the business meeting conducted by President Tom Boyer. Pete Everhart, Terry Reed, and Leroy Newlon will be available to 4-H Clubs, on request, for information as to selection, fitting and showing hogs.

David Gerber, Extension Area Agent Swine Industry, and George Hamrick, County Agent, discussed the cut-out of the barrows in the county barrow show conducted at Bowling Stockyards and Eckert Packing Co. on Feb. 24. Top barrow was owned by Walter Herron, Route 2; second place, Pete Everhart, Route 3; third, Robert Liston, Route 3; fourth, Clyde Herron, Route 2; and fifth, Terry Reed, Ashville. Pickaway Grain Co. furnished ribbons for the event.

Congress Eyes Rights Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's civil rights enforcement policies came under congressional scrutiny today as a Senate subcommittee opened hearings directed at recent decisions in the Pentagon and Department of Transportation.

The administrative practices and procedures subcommittee headed by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy planned to concentrate primarily on the way the Defense Department decided to award contracts to three southern textile companies and Transportation decided to rescind a procedure designed to guarantee non-discrimination.

The Anguilla Farce

There's been nothing like it since Gilbert and Sullivan.

Anguilla, a tiny dot of an island in the Caribbean, has suffered a full-blown invasion by British Red Devil paratroopers, who outnumbered the island's total military force of 250 men. The British were utterly fearless. They steamed within helicopter distance aboard two warships which probably equaled the size of the island.

They landed at the island's only airstrip, courageously overlooking the Anguillians' announced intention to prevent the landing by coaxing a herd of goats onto the strip.

The crack Red Devils, armed with the latest weapons, went against severe odds, it must be admitted. The Anguillians had been practicing with cannon described as having been left over from the Napoleonic wars.

Anguilla, a former British possession, had the bad judgment to secede from a three-island federation engineered by Britain when "freedom" was granted. Its all so reassuring and nostalgic.

As world leaders, Americans are often taken to task for alleged international boo-boos that it is easy to forget the truly colossal pomposities which were common when Britannia ruled the waves before World War II.

The episode would make a delightful comic opera.

A Danger Signal

Boosting of the prime interest rate — the rate banks charge their customers with the highest credit rating for loans — to 7½ percent by the nation's leading banks, is proof that the economy is not in the best possible shape.

Factors responsible for this record interest rate are many and diverse. To say that inflation is the culprit is oversimplification. Inflation is merely the manifestation of many deepseated maladjustments.

What is plain is that the interest rate cannot continue to rise without bringing on more maladjustments. But perhaps the American people are willing to accept greatly escalated, all-out, day-to-day inflation — with its ruinous impact upon every segment of society — as a way of life.

As a starter, this sort of inflation could make the national debt unmanageable except by the printing of huge amounts of unbacked currency, which could only increase the chaos. Skyrocketing interest rates are a warning signal that cannot be ignored.

Pragmatism Is Prudent

The Soviet Union has proposed to broaden official contacts with the United States by establishment of an American consulate in Leningrad and a Soviet consulate in San Francisco.

However, in dealing with the communists, past experience has taught that pragmatism is prudent. It would be well to ask about the motive of the Muscovites. And if a consulate in San Francisco is desirable enough to cause the Russians to seek it, can the U.S. trade for something it wants?

If this is an unduly skeptical attitude, it is one that past broken promises and shattered agreements with the Russians have brought about.

No Russian recently has threatened to "bury us," but unless the Moscow reds have changed a great deal, they have good reasons for wanting a second diplomatic base in the United States, and it is highly unlikely that they are in the best interests of the U.S.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Surveys and interviews show that job prospects in business for this year's bachelor degree candidates are more numerous and often more financially rewarding than ever before—if the draft doesn't come first.

The biggest salaries seem to be going to chemical engineering grads, followed closely by four other engineering groups: electrical, mechanical, metallurgical and aeronautical. Salaries for accountants are rising fast.

The number of job offers for master's and doctoral candidates may be somewhat lower this year, although it also may be too early to detect a trend. Some master's candidates in business report $12,000-a-year offers.

Not only are initial prospects good, but chances for relatively early promotion into managerial jobs is almost assured by some companies badly in need of young executives. Thirty-year-old vice presidents are common now.

The College Placement Council, Inc., of Bethlehem, Pa., notes a sharp increase in offers to bachelor degree candidates through mid-February, from 10,824 in 1968 to 12,248 this year.

For those seeking or holding advanced degrees the story seems a bit different. CPC reports only 1,762 offers at the master's level compared with 1,790 a year ago and 2,577 two years ago.

For doctoral candidates the number of offers declined to 459 from 485 a year ago and 592 two years ago.

This decline is not easily interpreted, for the egghead is now well established in business. A survey made two years ago of 4,500 managers by Executive Register, a New York personnel company, concluded that one in four holds a master's degree.

At the time of the survey, Shell Oil Co. had 680 Ph.D.s, and Scott Paper Co.'s management included 35 doctors and 178 masters, or double the number of six years earlier.

A survey just released by the Bureau of National Affairs, Inc., a private researcher and publisher of business and professional information based in Washington, D.C., shows a salary offer 5 to 6 per cent higher than a year ago.

It lists these as typical of the money offers to bachelor degree candidates: science, $9,184, up $363 in one year; business, $8,212, up $516; and liberal arts, $7,778, up $401.

Least too much significance be attached to these increases, please note that the cost of living also rose by roughly the same amount. In some fields, however, the increases far out-matched rises in living costs.

One of the main difficulties facing this year's class is the military draft.

Of 230 personnel and industrial relations executives queried in the BNA survey, 43 per cent said draft status was a consideration.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A PRISON PUBLICATION in New England announced a shake-up in the editorial staff, as follows: "The former editor of this magazine has reluctantly resigned. He was paroled. But we are fortunate to have back with us the previous editor, who has just become available for the next fifteen years."

The late, inimitable star, Tallulah Bankhead, confessed once that she called everybody "Dahling" because her memory for names was so dreadful. One day, for example, she introduced a new friend to everyone at a party as "Martini." Turned out the girl's name actually was Olive.

Taken to a movie preview one evening, Tallulah was told that the picture had been made by an independent producer. She suffered through it in relative silence, but announced loudly at its finish, "What I'd like to know is what on earth this producer has to be independent about!"

A. They caught him buttering up the teachers.

Q. Why did the stingy farmer feed his sick pig ten cubes of sugar?

A. He had heard about sugar-cured ham.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A man of twenty-six came to me for consultation. His complaints were many and so diversified that the general structure of his medical story left me confused. I believe that many of my colleague physicians will agree that a thorough and complete history of a patient taken at his initial visit is almost as important as the examination itself. This is an important concept for all readers to understand. If they do, they will think about, and perhaps write out, their medical history leading up to the actual complaint that brings them to a doctor's office.

Examination of this young man failed to reveal any evidence of disease to account for his vague symptoms. Undoubtedly, they were distressing to him even if the symptoms could be attributed to emotional tension and personal neuroticism.

I was impressed with the fact that this bright man was obsessed with health and his fears about it. His entire day seemed to revolve around an unholy triad of yoga, food faddism and astrology. His productivity in his job and in his social life was reduced to a minimum because he was bombarded with an encyclopedic knowledge of ignorance about health and his body.

I know that I am asking for letters of anger and denial by enthusiasts of any one of these "scientific" health practices. To spare them, let me say that all these endeavors carried on with a degree of sensibility may perhaps serve some function. When, however, a cult is made of one or more of these fads, and when they keep a person from the rightful benefits of modern medicine, health can be impaired.

When I presented him with the total health picture, after complete examination, and pointed out that his complaints were psychological, he accepted the suggestion to seek psychotherapy. At first there can be resistance to such a suggestion because some people take it as a personal insult that they should be "accused" of needing guidance from an outside source. Let me restate that in this hectic world, I wonder how anybody can live in it, untroubled and unscathed. It is no greater shame to have a psychological problem than it is to have a fractured leg. And both can be repaired.

I had made no effort to wean this young man away from yoga or the exotic foods that are eaten only when the moon is "right." Instead, I pointed out how easily one can be trapped by the glib talk that the sun, the moon and the stars (a joyous combination) determine by their positions the health and emotional destiny of the world.

One most unfortunate young lady was caught in this kind of web of cultist dieting and paid the extreme penalty of death in tribute to the "teachings" of her leader. Try the stars, the leopard milk and the Upnishads — but don't wander too far afield from the sanity of today's medicine.

Anti-Drug Drive Slated By NIMH

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nationwide information program aimed at helping youngsters resist the urge to experiment with drugs will be launched next month by the National Institute of Mental Health.

Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, director, said the program will not resort to "threats or scare techniques" but will attempt to answer questions "with the facts as we know them."

The campaign, using all news media, will be divided into several segments directed at widely divergent audiences. These include youth in general; youth already experimenting with marijuana and LSD; parents; adults who overuse amphetamines and barbiturates; and inner-city dwellers exposed daily to the dangers of heroin addiction.

Abortion Bill In Tough Fight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill to legalize abortion in certain cases ran into strong opposition today in the House Health and Welfare Committee.

Chairman Carlton E. Davidson R-26 Ironton repeatedly called for order in the packed committee room.

Rep. George E. Mastics R-52 Fairview Park, led opposition to the bill.

They Get What They Want

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

We have high interest rates (deflationary, at least according to Representative Wright Patman), but we also have "instant money" in the form of the new bank credit cards (inflationary by any man's definition). So which way is the thermometer going as our Washington pundits talk about cooling off the economy?

The truth of the matter is that people are still getting what they want when they want it, and the power to get it — i.e., cash or credit — is hardly dimmed down at all. The banks may be making it more difficult to borrow for building a stationary house, but mobile home production is up by twenty per cent. So what the heck, a roof's a roof, even if it's on wheels.

The spending mood is dramatically underlined by the latest report from the National Federation of Independent Business, which has been polling 115,000 respondents on the subject of retailer acceptance of bank credit cards. A year ago only twenty-four per cent of the nation's independent retailers were honoring the cards. Today the figure has jumped to thirty-two per cent. The "instant money" rage is especially virulent on the Pacific Coast, where fifty-five per cent of the merchants will let you buy on the bank's time. The practice of letting the bank carry the shopper enables the merchant to get out from under the necessity of adding to his own debt. It keeps business rolling precisely as though there had been no attempt, through a ten per cent surtax on the income tax, to slow spending down.

The banks know they aren't taking a chance on financing the shopper, for there obviously isn't going to be any significant drop-off in employment, which is currently higher than ever even in the midst of our urban troubles. The Department of Commerce and the Securities and Exchange Commission have just issued a report that American business plans a 13.9 per cent increase in new plant and equipment this year, which certainly spells boom. Some one has to build the new factories and make the new machine tools, and whoever does it is going to eat and buy hard consumer goods.

So this brings us around to the subject of automobiles. Ford and American Motors have talked about cutting back, but big General Motors doesn't seem to be worried. The daily car sales in middle-to-late February were better than a year ago, despite the snow. And, speaking of snow, a lot of people in the northern states were making money out of a new plaything, the snowmobile.

It is this curbstone economist's opinion that taxes don't have any effect on inflation as long as both the government and business are in the market for goods. The taxes that the State takes from the private citizen are spent anyway, thus bidding up the price of everything. And the taxes that are taken from business are figured as a cost of production or as a cost in curring in earning a legitimate after-tax profit. Both of these costs are added into prices, which means that taxes add to inflation instead of subtracting from it. Knowing this, business builds its new plant now instead of waiting until it will be more expensive later. The labor unions catch on quickly, and so do all the professional workers — the teachers, the nurses and so on — who used to consider themselves above striking. Everybody strikes today, and every strike is really directed against the government for ruining the purchasing power of the dollar by its own inflationary spending.

Maybe Arthur Burns, the President's adviser on general economic matters, can figure a way out of all this. But it won't be done by adding a surtax a tax while instant money credit cards are available to get a person over the gap until he can successfully strike for the raise needed to counteract the tax on a tax.

Of course, if there weren't any war in Vietnam . . . But, seeing what it does to hurt us, why should the Communists ever permit us the luxury of being without a small war in a place where it doesn't hurt them?

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Most wives aren't thrilled by the prospect of a future in which most of their household tasks will be done by a computer. They realize that a computer, if it breaks down, is one machine they can't fix with a hairpin.

Weight lifters are the most introverted of athletes, even more so than professional baseball pitchers.

You can bet that if a man has more than three kinds of medicine in his office desk drawer, he's already looking forward to retirement.

The older and richer a fellow gets, the more he likes to look back and speak wistfully of the deprivations of his childhood. He gets more real pleasure out of recalling them than he does enjoying his present wealth.

Don't you hate to eat in restaurants that have impervious hatchback girls? They put you in a bad mood even before the headwaiter can give you a seat too near the kitchen.

The biggest tyrants in the average office are those who are most henpecked at home.

Nothing has less personality than a breaded veal cutlet warmed over after sitting in the refrigerator for two days. Any husband served one should have legal grounds for divorce.

You never know how dumb a woman can be until you meet a smart one who likes to show off her intelligence.

I automatically trust a man who wears suspenders. Anyone that old-fashioned just couldn't be a modern successful crook.

One of the big differences between men and women is that two men can work in a kitchen together and emerge still friendly toward each other.

No one is welcomed more to his face and talked about more behind his back than a gossip. But at least isn't he less of a hypocrite than the rest of us?

An old-timer is a guy who can remember when he felt safe as long as he had a buck in his pocket.

Who can look at pigeons conducting their courtships in spring without sighing inside about some girl he wooed and lost in his own youth?

It is hard to like a man with prejudices unless he happens to share our own.

The chore that secretaries dislike performing most is having to remember to buy the boss's wife flowers on her birthday. They always feel the flowers are going to the wrong girl.

The easiest way to enjoy the pleasures of solitude is to always tell the truth.

Whenever I see pictures of the kind of ultramodern houses that architects design for themselves, I feel they were built to be dwelt in by inhabitants of Mars. I'd prefer to live in a nice log cabin.

Inflation is so rough now that about the only thing most of us can hope to save up for a rainy day is an umbrella.

C Of C Education Unit Is Link With Area Youth

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is one of several articles featured by the Herald this week to commemorate Chamber of Commerce Week. The Chamber's theme for this week is "Free Enterprise — Our Way of Life." The work of the Chamber in our community is based on the use of private funds and private manpower combined for the public good. Thus, the Chamber is totally an expression of private enterprise at work for the good of the community. It is truly and important contributor to free enterprise, our way of life.

Over the years, the committee has sponsored such activities as Business - Industry - Education Day to stimulate interchange between these important segments of our community.

This year, the committee plans to provide a career guidance program to give all county high school students the opportunity for really meaningful advice and counsel from chamber leaders.

From a survey of the Circleville, Logan Elm, Westfall and Teays Valley High Schools conducted by the chamber in 1968 regarding a "Career Guidance" program, it has been decided by the committee to run a "pilot" program this spring.

THIS program will in the main pertain to those students in their junior year — several students being selected from each school by their respective school officials.

It is hoped to further motivate these young people to pursue a maximum of education and training by a "tell-show-and-do" program to be provided by authorities in the field of the student's choice.

In the event that this "pilot" program is successful, he chamber is of the opinion that "Career Guidance" should be undertaken by the committee in much greater depth this fall.

Another important function handled by the education committee is the exit unit — interview program conducted for veterans from the Chillicothe VA Hospital.

The fundamental idea of the program is to provide "mock" pre-employment interviews for prospective discharges in the endeavor to prepare these individuals for their return to a more normal life and gainful employment.

One of the first of such programs to exist in the nation, this effort by the chamber of commerce is a worthwhile step in the rehabilitation of participants.

IT IS thought by the hospital authorities that this program has been of benefit to those interviewed in the past, in helping them adjust to the realities of job hunting after their temporary withdrawal from normal community life.

Chairman of the education committee for 1969 is Sam P. Foster. Other members who contribute to the function of this committee are: D. S. Goldschmidt, R. E. Plum, F. A. Gans, E. J. Frericks, H. Bobo, W. A. Rickey, H. W. Diehl, and R. N. Phillips.

Ray's Bid For Retrial Hits Snag

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray, who wants to disavow his admission of guilt in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has been denied an immediate meeting with a Memphis attorney at the state prison here.

Harry S. Avery, Tennessee commissioner of corrections said Richard J. Ryan was turned away by prison officials Wednesday because he had not been officially retained as Ray's lawyer.

In another development, the Tennessee Supreme Court handed down a decision which could become a major hurdle for Ray in his bid to gain a new trial and overturn his 99-year sentence.

The court, in an opinion by Justice Allison B. Humphreys dealing with a burglary conviction, ruled that a convicted criminal cannot seek to invalidate a prison sentence on grounds he was misadvised by his attorney to plead guilty.

Jerry Ray, James' brother, said last week Ray would ask for a new trial on grounds he was "pressured" by his former attorney, Percy Foreman, into entering a guilty plea. Foreman has denied he put pressure on Ray.

Junior Rifle Club Scores Listed

Tony Betts fired a 47 from the prone position and Jack Tate a 47 from the kneeling position during competition of the Pickaway Junior Rifle Club Tuesday.

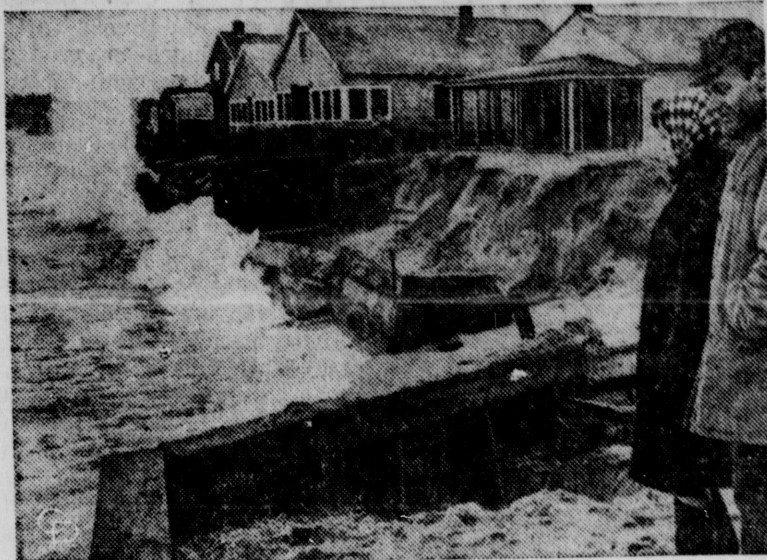

Highest possible score is 50 points. Tim Carpenter carded a 42 from the standing position and Jim Routt a 41 from the sitting position.

The junior rifle club holds its competition at the indoor rifle range on the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Young And Saxbe Vote In Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio's two senators cast opposing votes Wednesday as the Senate passed 67-18 a bill to increase the national debt limit.

Republican William B. Saxbe voted with the majority in favor of the measure, while Democrat Stephen M. Young voted against it.

Court Voids Life Term

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday nullified the rape conviction of a Butler County man, saying an expert's testimony at the trial was prejudicial and should not have been allowed.

Raymond Ross Holt of West Chester was convicted in October 1965 of raping a 7-year-old Hamilton girl and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

But the Supreme Court, in reversing the conviction, said the trial court had allowed an expert's testimony which "fell far short of the reasonable certainty and probability legal requirement in criminal cases."

Dr. Werner Wahl of the Union Carbide Corp., New York, told a Butler County Common Pleas Court jury about a Neutron Activation analysis he had made of public hairs taken from the defendant and the victim.

In his testimony, relied upon heavily by the prosecution, Dr. Wahl said the hair samples "are similar and are likely to be from the same source."

Mariner 7 Poised For Trip To Polar Regions Of Mars

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Mariner 7 was poised for launching toward Mars today to photograph the mysterious red planet's south polar regions. It is the second part of a two-spacecraft study which could tell whether Mars may support life.

Perched atop a powerful Atlas-Centaur rocket, the 501-pound craft was due for blast off at 4:35 p.m. EST.

After a 193-million-mile voyage, Mariner 7 is expected to pass 2,000 miles above the Martian south pole Aug. 5.

It will follow a twin craft, Mariner 6, launched Feb. 24 and now on course for a July 31 fly-by at the same altitude over the equatorial regions of Mars.

Officials said photos from both Mariners may show objects as small as 900 feet across. Similar pictures of Earth would pick out many dams and bridges.

Details on the pictures probably will not be clear enough to determine whether Martian life actually exists, the officials said, but information from the photos and spacecraft sensors may disclose whether temperatures and water supplies would permit it.

In another Cape Kennedy launching, the Air Force Wednesday sent a multiple-warhead Minuteman 3 missile on a test flight down the Atlantic overseas range. The weapon, being developed as the primary missile in America's land-based strategic striking force, appeared to be successful in the launch phase of flight.

But officials, following Defense Department policy, declined to comment on the performance of the warhead section—the main reason for Wednesday's test. A Minuteman launched in October failed to release three dummy bombs as planned.

General Manager For Firm Named

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Glen J. Hartman has been appointed vice president and general manager of the Copperweld Steel Co.'s Ohio Steel Tube Division at Shelby, Ohio, it was announced Wednesday.

Hartman previously served as general manager of manufacturing at Copperweld's Steel Bar Division at Warren, Ohio.

Ray's Bid For Retrial Hits Snag

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray, who wants to disavow his admission of guilt in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has been denied an immediate meeting with a Memphis attorney at the state prison here.

Harry S. Avery, Tennessee commissioner of corrections said Richard J. Ryan was turned away by prison officials Wednesday because he had not been officially retained as Ray's lawyer.

In another development, the Tennessee Supreme Court handed down a decision which could become a major hurdle for Ray in his bid to gain a new trial and overturn his 99-year sentence.

The court, in an opinion by Justice Allison B. Humphreys dealing with a burglary conviction, ruled that a convicted criminal cannot seek to invalidate a prison sentence on grounds he was misadvised by his attorney to plead guilty.

Jerry Ray, James' brother, said last week Ray would ask for a new trial on grounds he was "pressured" by his former attorney, Percy Foreman, into entering a guilty plea. Foreman has denied he put pressure on Ray.

Junior Rifle Club Scores Listed

Tony Betts fired a 47 from the prone position and Jack Tate a 47 from the kneeling position during competition of the Pickaway Junior Rifle Club Tuesday.

Highest possible score is 50 points. Tim Carpenter carded a 42 from the standing position and Jim Routh a 41 from the sitting position.

The junior rifle club holds its competition at the indoor rifle range on the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Young And Saxbe Vote In Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio's two senators cast opposing votes Wednesday as the Senate passed 67-18 a bill to increase the national debt limit.

Republican William B. Saxbe voted with the majority in favor of the measure, while Democrat Stephen M. Young voted against it.

public good. Thus, the Chamber is totally an expression of private enterprise at work for the good of the community. It is truly and important contributor to free enterprise, our way of life.

The Education committee of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce is one of the important links between our city's businessmen and youth.

Over the years, the committee has sponsored such activities as Business - Industry - Education Day to stimulate interchange between these important segments of our community.

This year, the committee plans to provide a career guidance program to give all county high school students the opportunity for really meaningful advice and counsel from chamber leaders.

From a survey of the Circleville, Logan Elm, Westfall and Teays Valley High Schools conducted by the chamber in 1968 regarding a "Career Guidance" program, it has been decided by the committee to run a "pilot" program this spring.

THIS program will in the main pertain to those students in their junior year — several students being selected from each school by their respective school officials.

It is hoped to further motivate these young people to pursue a maximum of education and training by a "tell-show-and-do" program to be provided by authorities in the field of the student's choice.

In the event that this "pilot" program is successful, the chamber is of the opinion that "Career Guidance" should be undertaken by the committee in much greater depth this fall.

Another important function handled by the education committee is the exit unit — interview program conducted for veterans from the Chillicothe VA Hospital.

The fundamental idea of the program is to provide "mock" pre-employment interviews for prospective discharges in the endeavor to prepare these individuals for their return to a more normal life and gainful employment.

One of the first of such programs to exist in the nation, this effort by the chamber of commerce is a worthwhile step in the rehabilitation of participants.

IT IS thought by the hospital authorities that this program has been of benefit to those interviewed in the past, in helping them adjust to the realities of job hunting after their temporary withdrawal from normal community life.

Chairman of the education committee for 1969 is Sam P. Foster. Other members who contribute to the function of this committee are: D. S. Goldschmidt, R. E. Plum, F. A. Gans, E. J. Frericks, H. Bobo, W. A. Rickey, H. W. Diehl, and R. N. Phillips.

HIGH TIDES AND STRONG CURRENTS did the damage examined by Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Auger at Hill's Beach, Maine. Residents of the area say their problem began after completion of a jetty at the mouth of the river that changed the tidal currents.

Court Voids Life Term

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday nullified the rape conviction of a Butler County man, saying an expert's testimony at the trial was prejudicial and should not have been allowed.

Raymond Ross Holt of West Chester was convicted in October 1965 of raping a 7-year-old Hamilton girl and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

But the Supreme Court, in reversing the conviction, said the trial court had allowed an expert's testimony which "fell far short of the reasonable certainty and probability legal requirement in criminal cases."

Dr. Werner Wahl of the Union Carbide Corp., New York, told a Butler County Common Pleas Court jury about a Neutron Activation analysis he had made of pubic hairs taken from the defendant and the victim.

In his testimony, relied upon heavily by the prosecution, Dr. Wahl said the hair samples "are similar and are likely to be from the same source."

JUNE CLAIRE GOODWIN

Goodwin-Wright Wedding Plans Are Revealed

A spring wedding will unite Miss June Claire Goodwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eugene Goodwin of Thibodaux, La., to Edward Neil Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville V. DeLong of 465 Stella Ave., Circleville.

The nuptial Mass and dual-ring ceremony will be celebrated 2 p.m. April 26 at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Thibodaux.

A 1965 graduate of Mount Carmel Academy, the bride-elect received her degree in nursing in 1968 from Mercy Hospital School of Nursing in New Orleans.

The prospective groom is a 1963 graduate of Circleville High School. He attended Ohio State University and is presently serving in the U.S. Air Force as an electronics instructor at Keesler Air Force Base.

Practical Nurse

Assn. Meets

Program for the recent meeting of Pickaway County Practical Nurses Assn. was a demonstration on the use of cosmetics. Mrs. Helen Bay hosted the group in her home near Lancaster. Attending were eight members and two guests.

Mrs. Jean Good, president, presided over the business session and devotions were led by Mrs. Anna Mankey.

Frances Evans reported that Mrs. Margaret Hickey has invited the group to attend the yearly TB meeting to be held in the AME Church.

Mrs. Good appointed Anna Gardner to attend a meeting of the Welfare Board on March 31. Mrs. Nellie Leist and Mrs. Helen Bay were requested to make arrangements for a Mother-Daughter Banquet in May.

The hostess served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Jean Good with Mrs. Marguerite Steivson assisting.

Farm Bureau Women Make Tour Plans

Plans were made for a tour of Berea College, in Berea, Ky., when the Farm Bureau Women's Committee met Monday afternoon at the Farm Bureau Home. The group will leave the fairgrounds at 5 a.m. on April 30 and return by 8 p.m. the same day. Farm Bureau women and their guests should make reservations by depositing their bus fare at the Farm Bureau office no later than April 17. Reservations will be on a first come, first serve, basis.

Farm Bureau women will serve as hostesses at the Landmark open house planned for April 9-12.

Mrs. John Moss Sr. presided over the recent business meeting and Mrs. Charles Rose presented devotions based on Psalm 56. Mrs. Carl Martin reported on the district cabinet meeting she attended and Miss Mary Clark reported on a recent safety meeting. She will present a safety program at the next Farm Bureau Women's Committee meeting.

John Stevenson, Farm Bureau Congressional spokesman and Pickaway County Farm Bureau president, recently returned from a trip to Washington D.C. and will report to any council who requests him to do so.

Members attending this meeting were Mrs. Moss, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Arthur Leist, Mrs. Russell Yapple, Miss Clark, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Cecil Noecker, Mrs. Tom Conrad, Mrs. Robert A. Jones, and Nelson Stevens, organization director.

Mrs. John Stevenson read a report from the executive board, presenting four names to be voted on at the next meeting. Correspondence was read by Mrs. Clarence McAbee and a message from the president general was read by Miss Elisabeth Stevenson.

Mrs. Martin Cromley presented Mr. Smith. He is a field biologist for the State Department of Ohio. He presented a talk on air and water pollution and erosion and showed slides to illustrate his subjects.

Mrs. Stanley Bowers read for national defense an article entitled "Childish Attack On ROTC."

The meeting adjourned with the chapter standing to sing "America The Beautiful."

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Bruce Stevenson, Mrs. Beryl Stevenson, Miss Elisabeth Stevenson, Mrs. John Stevenson, Mrs. Paul Gearhart, Mrs. Paul Wendell Gearhart, Mrs. J. Austin Dowden, Mrs. Emmett Ebenbach, Mrs. Robert Pickens and Mrs. Glyn Hoover.

Republican Women's Club Fetes Students

Pickaway County Women's Republican Club hosted members of Brooks-Yates School at a luncheon in the school on Monday, with 87 attending.

Two students received special birthday recognition when a large decorated cake was served in their honor.

Children of the school presented a program of songs and folk dancing preceding the afternoon business session.

Mrs. H. O. Caldwell presided, giving information from National Republican Headquarters, followed with discussion.

Gold membership cards and jeweled American flag pins were given to 15 year members, Mrs. J. B. Stevenson and Mrs. Clara Rihl.

Luncheon tickets for the Republican Club's 20th Anniversary celebration were distributed for sale in various communities. The event will be 12:30 p.m. at the Scioto Valley Grange. Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Lawrence Liston, Circleville; Mrs. Bertha Porter, Williamsport; Mrs. W. F. Gillespie, New Holland; Miss Cleona Dunnick, Ashville; Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, Lockbourne.

The deadline date is April 24. Each child was presented with a gift of Easter candy by Mrs. Siegle. Hostesses were Mrs. M. D. Lorentz, Mrs. Eugene P. Hanson and Mrs. Clark Smith.

WSCS Holds March Meeting

Women's Society of Christian Service of Calvary United Methodist Church held its March meeting in the home of Mrs. Mark DeLong, 662 E. Mound St. Mrs. Francis Davis served as co-hostess.

For the program, Mrs. Louis Gerlach, assisted by Mrs. Marion DeLong presented "Look What's Happening To Religion." A playlet followed, and Scripture was read by Mrs. Russell Archer.

Mrs. W. C. Shasteen, presiding over the business session, heard reports from chairmen. She announced the WSCS Convention will be held April 23-24 at the Burgess Ave. Church in Columbus. Members drew names for prayer partners for the month.

Refreshments were served to the 17 members and one guest present by the hostesses.

Judge Rejects Evans Motion

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Judge George J. McMonagle Wednesday overruled a defense request that the state specify which of seven murder charges Cleveland Black Nationalist leader Fred "Ahmed" Evans is to be tried on.

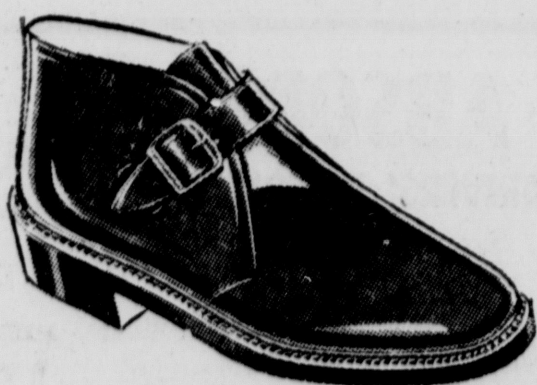

Evans faces seven murder counts in the deaths of three Cleveland policemen and one civilian during racial violence last July in Cleveland's Glenville area. In the case of each officer, he was charged with both first-degree murder and killing a policeman.

Evans' attorneys contended that the arrangement put the 37-year-old astrologer and former Army sergeant in double jeopardy. The prosecution contended that Ohio law permitted an individual to be charged under two statutes for the same crime.

School Levies Fall On Hard Times Over Buckeye State

By STEVE DRAKE
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio voters, in regular elections between 1960 and 1969, rejected every third school bond issue and one of every five school tax levies.

Some tax issues were defeated two or three times, creating a financial crisis for the districts.

Six successive tax levy defeats in two years forced the Youngstown schools to close five weeks last fall.

Why? A major factor in defeats of school taxes, according to education officials, is voter protest of the present tax structure in Ohio.

"School taxes are one of the few on which people can vote," says Bryce Wicker, Seneca County, a member of the State Board of Education. "Many vote against them in general resentment and protest of all taxes."

In the 13 regularly scheduled elections from 1960 to last November, Ohio schools submitted 1,192 bond issues. Only 768—or 66 per cent—were approved. In 1968, 149 bond issues were put to the voters and 69—or 46.3 per cent—failed. Of the total, 17 were submitted twice last year and nine were rejected twice.

Between 1960 and 1969, 5,134 tax levies were submitted and 4,220—or 82 per cent—passed.

During that period, voters most often rejected new levies of five or more mills. For example, last November 94 new levies of five or more mills were on the ballot. Voters rejected 42—or 44.7 per cent—of them. In contrast, at that same November election voters approved all 173 renewal tax levies on the ballot.

The Youngstown and Cincinnati city schools—with a total of 115,000 students—have been hardest hit by voter rejection of tax issues.

"We'll reach the point of no return in June, 1970," says Cincinnati Supt. Paul E. Miller. "We're running an $8 million deficit in 1970. That's out of a total budget of $53 million and is quite a large deficit."

Cincinnati voters will decide the fate of the city's schools when they vote on a 5.2 mill levy at a special May 19 election. They have rejected three levies since November, 1966.

"We're running a collision course in financing, just as Youngstown," says Miller. "If the levy fails, we'll shut the schools five days this year and 14 days next fall."

"It costs us $200,000 a day to operate the schools. By closing 19 days we will save $3.8 million. The rest of the deficit will be made up in an austerity drive. Free summer school and free adult education will be cut regardless of the levy's outcome. We'll cut maintenance to the bone and will purchase supplies and textbooks only on an emergency basis."

Youngstown will submit a 12 mill levy in the May primary.

The Youngstown schools will receive $300,000 less tax dollars this year. The tax rate is the same, but the valuation of property has dropped because of urban renewal and highway projects in the city.

Supt. W. W. Zinser cited these reasons why the Youngstown levies failed:

—The usual resistance to a tax increase whatever the purpose.

—A large parochial system requiring heavy financial support from Catholic parents who make up nearly 48 per cent of the Youngstown population.

—Heavy spending in inner city schools, which some residents opposed.

—A conflict between teacher groups, causing the AFL-CIO Labor Council not to endorse any of the six school levies.

—Lack of confidence in the school board and school administrators.

A preliminary report of a survey by Youngstown State University showed Youngstown voter attitudes had changed slightly and they would pass a tax levy of less than 10 mills.

The Cuyahoga Falls schools were among the most recent victims of voter rejection. On March 4, voters rejected by a three to one margin a 15 mill levy which would have added $2,164,000 annually to the system's operating fund.

"We've gone two years without new tax money," says Cuyahoga Falls Supt. Harold Wilson. "Our teachers have not had raises for two years and the cutbacks in supplies and maintenance are beginning to catch up with us."

Wilson said the levy was rejected because it was publicized as the largest tax request ever submitted to Ohio voters and because voters were protesting the Ohio tax structure.

"Numerous people told me they voted no to protest an unrealistic tax structure which relies too heavily on property taxes," Wilson said. "But the school tax issue is just like purchasing insurance—you don't buy it because you can't afford it, you buy it because you can't afford not to."

Voters in Northeastern Local School District in Defiance County rejected a $1,260,000 bond issue last May but approved it in November. School Supt. Roger Farlee said the big difference between approval and failure was the active work of a citizen's group.

Crestline (Crawford County)

voters last year twice rejected a $1,250,000 bond issue for remodeling the high school. Supt. Ray L. Holland said a survey tied the rejection to voter apathy and opposition to more taxes.

"The main thing is general resistance to property taxes," said Dr. Stayner E. Brighton, executive secretary of the Ohio Education Association. "It's the one tax people can vote on and they vent their spleen on the whole tax structure on this one vote."

One tax success story is the Kirtland schools in Lake County. Although they had the highest tax rate in the state last year, voters approved last November a three mill operating levy and a 0.75 permanent improvement levy.

School board president Lewis Schupp said he didn't think they had any secrets for success. But he said the board tried to maintain communication with the community, including a written president's report after each board meeting.

"If people feel you have enough money but are spending it foolishly, they'll vote no," Schupp said. "The board must speak freely and be able to convince the voters that the present money is well used."

"If the state expects the local board to operate, it must untie its hands in terms of taxation for education," says Cincinnati Supt. Miller. "Since education is required by the state, I insist that if the local electorate rejects taxes, then the state must step in."

—Lack of confidence in the school board and school administrators.

A preliminary report of a survey by Youngstown State University showed Youngstown voter attitudes had changed slightly and they would pass a tax levy of less than 10 mills.

The Cuyahoga Falls schools were among the most recent victims of voter rejection. On March 4, voters rejected by a three to one margin a 15 mill levy which would have added $2,164,000 annually to the system's operating fund.

"We've gone two years without new tax money," says Cuyahoga Falls Supt. Harold Wilson. "Our teachers have not had raises for two years and the cutbacks in supplies and maintenance are beginning to catch up with us."

Wilson said the levy was rejected because it was publicized as the largest tax request ever submitted to Ohio voters and because voters were protesting the Ohio tax structure.

"Numerous people told me they voted no to protest an unrealistic tax structure which relies too heavily on property taxes," Wilson said. "But the school tax issue is just like purchasing insurance—you don't buy it because you can't afford it, you buy it because you can't afford not to."

Voters in Northeastern Local School District in Defiance County rejected a $1,250,000 bond issue last May but approved it in November. School Supt. Roger Farlee said the big difference between approval and failure was the active work of a citizen's group.

Crestline (Crawford County) voters last year twice rejected a $1,250,000 bond issue for remodeling the high school. Supt. Ray L. Holland said a survey tied the rejection to voter apathy and opposition to more taxes.

"The main thing is general resistance to property taxes," said Dr. Stayner E. Brighton, executive secretary of the Ohio Education Association. "It's the one tax people can vote on and they vent their spleen on the whole tax structure on this one vote."

One tax success story is the Kirtland schools in Lake County. Although they had the highest tax rate in the state last year, voters approved last November a three mill operating levy and a 0.75 permanent improvement levy.

School board president Lewis Schupp said he didn't think they had any secrets for success. But he said the board tried to maintain communication with the community, including a written president's report after each board meeting.

"If people feel you have enough money but are spending it foolishly, they'll vote no," Schupp said. "The board must speak freely and be able to convince the voters that the present money is well used."

"If the state expects the local board to operate, it must unite its hands in terms of taxation for education," says Cincinnati Supt. Miller. "Since education is required by the state, I insist that if the local electorate rejects taxes, then the state must step in."

"PRESIDENTS ARE BUSY"—Chosen Queen of the International Azalea Festival April 23-27 in Norfolk, Va., Tricia Nixon, 23, daughter of President Nixon, tells newsmen in Washington at a pre-festival reception that she has been "putting the pressure on" her father to attend her coronation. But "you know how busy presidents are," she said.

Uncertainty Weighs Heavily On Stock Market

8 The Circleville Herald, Thur. Mar. 27, 1969
Circleville, Ohio

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A world of uncertainty—about inflation, business growth, Vietnam and the Middle East—has weighed heavily on the stock market in recent months.

Since early December the market has been going down with only brief interruptions for feeble rallies.

After hitting its 1968 high of 985.21 on Dec. 3 the widely watched Dow Jones average of 30 industrials fell to a low of 899.80 on Feb. 25—a loss of about 8.6 per cent. Since then this barometer has moved up, closing at 923.30 Wednesday, still far from last year's high.

With economic and political problems all around them, many investors have retired temporarily to the sidelines or have sought other types of investment such as real estate.

"The principal reason for the stock market decline is because we have been unable to curtail our galloping inflation," says Robert Johnson, research director for the brokerage firm of Paine, Webber, Jackson Curtis.

Inflation in the U.S. economy ran at the high rate of 4.7 per cent in 1968 and now is estimated at an annual rate of 5 per cent.

Efforts to stem inflation have

Nixon To Sign Debt Limit Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is expected to sign promptly a bill raising the national debt limit to a record $377 billion, averting a tight squeeze the federal Treasury expected in less than three weeks.

The Senate voted 67 to 18 Wednesday to send the bill to the President after Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois told his colleagues they had no choice but to pass it. The House approved it March 19, 313 to 92.

It raises the limit by $12 billion but will expire June 30, 1970 and return the limit to $365 billion, forcing the administration to return for another look at its policies next spring if the debt reaches the $374 billion predicted for March and April 1970.

included enactment of the 10 per cent surcharge on corporate and individual income taxes last June, a tightening of money policy by the Federal Reserve Board, and a series of increases in banks' prime lending rate which have brought it to a record 7½ per cent.

These actions were meant to reduce the amount of money available for corporate expansion and consumer buying. But they have been slow in becoming effective.

Wall Street wasn't surprised by President Nixon's proposal Wednesday to extend the surcharge for another year. His action had been expected and brokers said its effect had been discounted.

Amanda-Clearcreek PTO Sates Program

The Amanda - Clearcreek Parent Teacher Organization will sponsor an evening with the Singing Gales and the Singing Gales 8 p.m. April 12 at the high school auditorium.

Tickets can be obtained from Mrs. George Hume, or Mrs. Paul Saum.

The Dow Jones industrial average's gain of 6.22 points Wednesday was attributed mainly to rising hopes of progress in Vietnam peace talks. In mid-February, when government fiscal officials expressed the opinion that the surcharge would have to be extended, the market fell sharply due to this and other factors. The industrial average's loss in the week beginning Feb. 17 was 35.30 points.

"The main underlying factor in depressing the market and one which still very much persists is the concern as to when brakes in the economic system will take hold," says Richard Scruggs, analyst for Goodbody Co., a major brokerage firm.

At the same time, however, the restraints on money have made investors less optimistic about the outlook for corporate profits and thereby lessened their appetite for stocks.

The market has failed in most recent instances to advance in reaction to what usually would be considered good business developments. This, according to economists, is because of apprehension that continued business growth at the recent rate might bring on government controls of prices and wages.

So good business news has been

Start Shuffle Of Poverty War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eight cities have been chosen as regional headquarters for all five federal departments and agencies dealing directly with poverty and urban problems.

President Nixon will announce the reorganization today, the White House has disclosed, but there already are rumors of protest from states and cities which would lose headquarters offices in the shuffle.

The reorganization is designed to simplify and speed up the dealings of state and city authorities with the officials responsible for federal grants and urban programs.

The chosen cities are New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Denver, Dallas-Fort Worth, San Francisco and Atlanta.

come, in a sense, bad news for the market.

Recurrent crises involving international currency also have made American investors more cautious. Gold speculation on the European markets has raised threats of devaluation of the French franc and the British pound and revaluation of the strong West German mark. These developments pose a danger to the U. S. dollar, whose foundation in world commerce is the government-fixed gold price of $35 an ounce.

Trial Is Scheduled For OSU Professor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Trial is scheduled April 21 in U.S. District Court for David Green, former Ohio State University professor who is accused of burning his draft card in an OSU classroom last spring.

Green was indicted on charges of burning his draft card and failure to possess it. Judge Joseph P. Kinneary set the trial date Wednesday after denying Green's motion for dismissal of the charge of failing to possess the card.

Williamsport News

By EILEEN EASTERDAY — Phone 986-3481

Each week's news seems to, without conscious thought, have on prevailing theme and this week it is talent.

A note from Mrs. Pearl (Elsie) Whaley brings the happy news that their son Bobby won first prize in a talent show at Da Nang, Vietnam, singing country western music. First prize was $50 and a 3 day R & R. (rest and recreation) in the country. Bobby is extending his tour in Vietnam and it is the hopes of his parents that they can persuade him not to do so. He will celebrate his birthday Easter Sunday April 6 and would surely enjoy cards. Sp-4 Charles R. Whaley, U.S. 51881323, U.S. Army Mortuary, Da Nang, A.P.O. San Francisco, 96337.

Sunday afternoon, my Amy, Marc, Becki and myself drove up to Grove City to attend the matinee of Brookpark Junior High's musical production "Take It Easy." Each and every member of the cast gave a really good performance but we were much impressed with the talent of Tracy Strawser.

Tracy is a daughter of Ray and Ann Jones Strawser formerly of this community but now Grove City residents. The Strawssers have a host of friends and relatives in the Herald reading area. Tracy had a leading role and her musical numbers were excellent. Just remember in a few years when she is a leading lady on Broadway that you read her first rave review here.

Her twin sister Marcia was also in the production and handled her part very competently. The other Strawser family members are Lee Ann, Brad and Julie whom we thoroughly enjoyed visiting with at their home after the matinee. Others joining us for a buffet supper were Jim and Jean (Ann's sister) Tisdale and their Jimmie. They also attended the matinee.

P.T.A. Talent Show
After weeks of hard work the big night for the Williamsport P.T.A. Annual Talent Show finally arrived and as usual it was SRO (standing room only). Master of Ceremonies was Jerry Leist of local radio and judges were Mrs. Jan McKelvey, Miss Ruth Montelius and Charles Harter. No one envied them the difficult task of selecting winners from the three categories.

As is always the case in competitive activities some of the decisions were popular and some otherwise but nonetheless final — just very glad it was them, not this writer. In the first category pre-schoolers through third grade winners were: 1 Sandee Drummond (solo); 2 Crystal Metzger (tap dance); 3 Kindergarten Class (directed by Marcia Horch and Glenna Wisecup) action song.

Second category, fourth and fifth grades: 1 Barbara Mace, (tap dance); 2 Shana Wills (piano solo); 3. Drew Henson (solo — another Glen Campbell).

Sixth grade thru eighth grade: 1 Gail Underwood (solo); 2. Rosemarie Mosley (piano solo); 3. Cindy Hamman (piano solo). Best of show awards were 1. Gail Underwood; 2. Rosemarie Mosley; 3. Barbara Mace.

In all there were 24 talent acts with a total of 40 boys and girls participating. Each one deserves special praise and while all did not win prize money they can all be classed winners since it takes the talents of each to provide an evening of such delightful entertainment.

During the intervals between each category while the judges were doing their "thing" the audience enjoyed the "Stephen Foster Medley" beautifully sung by Mrs. Cook (Jeanne) Metzger; a duet comprised of Don Greenwood and Clark Hunsicker and their rendition of "Old Man River"; the lovely voice of Mrs. Glen (Beverly) Whitten, Jr. singing "Easter Parade" and without doubt the hilarious "chorus girl" line doing their "lilting" dance number — Marvin (Bubbles) Thompson Harvey (Holly) Looney, Wendell (Wanda) Hott, Ron (Bonnie) Beatty, Jimmie (Ginny) Mowery, David (Kitty) Drummond.

The 13th
The number 13 is considered by many to be unlucky but not so my good neighbor, Mrs. Una Higman who proudly announces the birth of her 13th grandchild, on Friday, March 14, in Fayette Memorial Hospital to daddy Lowell and mama Mary Fredricks Higman of Washington C. H. Born at 7:05 p.m. Thomas Edward Higman, weighed in at 9 pounds 2 ounces and has one sister, Lora, and a brother Sammy. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Irene Fredricks also of Washington C. H.

It's that time of year for college students to have their spring break and some of those home for a few days of late hours and late sleeping are Vicki Sykes, Riverside White Cross School of Nursing, Nancy Fenstermaker, Otterbein, Marsha Reynolds, Ohio State (returned Monday) Steve Steinhauer, Otterbein, Dave Stevens, Ohio Northern, Charles Palmer has returned to classes at Wilmington (tall, tanned and terrific).

He spent most of his break helping dad Frank till the soil on the farm near Kinderhook. Lee and John Cook, (O.S.U. and O.U.—C respectively) sons of Carroll and Margaret Cook and friend David Patrick, Camfield, Ohio drove to Florida and visited David's aunt and uncle at Clearwater, crossed over to Hollywood and broke bread with the Cook boys grandparents, John and Hyacinth Dearth. Don, Jr. and Peggy Cook with baby Beth have returned to studies at O.S.U. after being home with Don, Sr. and Jean Cook and Diane, a student at O.U.—C.

Sarah Barnes and brother Paul are home from Otterbein —Sarah with a B.A. in Home Ec and busily getting ready for her forthcoming wedding day April 12. The lucky groom-to-be is Dan Davis. The open church ceremony will be at 3:30 p.m. in the Williamsport United Methodist Church.

Happy Anniversary
It was anniversary waltz time, Saturday, March 22, for Donald Eugene and Glenna Stinehauser and sharing the event were their offspring, Steve, Don and Carol Sue Watts Steinhauer, Richard and Sue Steinhauer Banks. They all had dinner at Marzetti's Restaurant in Cols. Gene and Glenna also have two lovely grandchildren, Kelly and Bryan — children of Don and Carol Sue.

Boy Scouts
Boy Scout Troop 542 will sponsor a spaghetti supper this Saturday, in the American Legion Hall. They hope to raise funds for their summer camp project. Serving starts at 5 p.m.

Arround Town
Mrs. Arthur Frazier has been very ill these past several days and is slightly improved. Members of her family have been stopping in but since Mrs. Frazier is so ill I have not disturbed her rest to know for sure just who. Sincerely wish her a complete recovery very soon and "Happy Birthday" March 27.

Mr. Harry Wilkey returned home last Thursday after being a patient in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Mrs. Una Higman had her daughters, Judy Speakman. Her hubby Dick and sons Steve and Bob of Clarksburg, Myrna Hosler and her Brent of Circleville and a son Lowell Higman and family of Washington C. H. and her sister, Inez Lingo for Sunday dinner.

Judy Wright was Saturday evening dinner guests at the Easterday home. Judy, our Becki and Tanis Galloway then met with Nancy Mace at her home to practice their "swinging" band numbers for the talent show. Becki was an overnight guest of Judy.

Miss Diana Reynolds, a teacher at Miami Trace was a weekend guest of parents Gerald (Johnny) and Doris Reynolds. Other visitors were Roger Clark and daughter Janne's b.f. Tim Dewey.

Pete and Pearl Cochenour and granddaughter Crystal (daughter of Jim Cochenour) drove down to Collinsville Saturday and remained overnight with Bill and Vallis Cochenour Long and their four, Brett, Jeff, Becky and Jackie.

Mrs. Chloe Pitt of Smith Nursing Home visited Sunday afternoon with her son Charles Pitt and his family and with her sisters, Mrs. Hattie Wallace and Mrs. Ben Compton. Mrs. Pitt is in fairly good health.

Palm Sunday, March 30 will be an important date in the life of young Eric Scott Palmer, son of Doug and Elaine Miller Palmer, since this will be his baptismal day at Mt. Pleasant United Methodist Church. He is the only grandchild of Frank and Lois Palmer.

The beautiful palms now gracing the altar at Mt. Pleasant are on loan from Helen's Beauty Shop here in our town. That Helen is a flower grower!

4-H
Junior and Senior Deercreek Livestock met in the school house last Friday evening with their advisors, Paul Schein, Eugene Schleich, Dr. Paul Fenstermaker, Alfred Johnson and Ellwyn Hulse. Several points of business were discussed and one of the most important was the next meeting will be Friday, April 11, 8:00 p.m. same place and it is vital all members be registered at this meeting as no new members will be accepted after this date. A movie of interest to 4-Hers will be shown.

Clean Up Day
Gather up your rags, mops, brushes, buckets and any other cleaning type materials and join the clean-up crew at 9 a.m. this Saturday, March 29 at the Methodist Church. This invitation is open to anyone with a desire to help clean.

Open House
Sunday, March 30 from 3-5 p.m. the Methodist Church will observe open house both at the church and the parsonage. It will begin with a short worship service. Should you wish to invite anyone to attend please feel free to do so. Mrs. Bea Anderson, chairman of Worship Committee and members, Judy Wolfe, Mary Alice Schein, Rosemary Hunsicker, Sandy Wisecup, Twila West, Marie Gibson, Lawrence Ater, Byron Carter, and Rev. Ed Linville have been very busy with preparations.

The Wesley Choir, comprised of students fifth thru eighth grade, provided the special music during church services last Sunday. They are under the capable direction of Mrs. Ray (Marcia) Horch Jr., and Mrs. Robert (Evelyn) Hastings. They could use more members and while I know it is difficult at this age level to cope with home work and extra curricular activities, why not make a special effort to give a bit of your time for your church? Perhaps the parents could encourage their boy or girl to join. The congregation does so appreciate hearing the special numbers. Where are all the boys? I could only count two and they are to be commended.

Kindergarten
Mothers of hopeful kindergartners met in the church annex (Methodist recently and elected officers for the 1969-1970 school year. They are: Mrs. Steve Fullen, president; Mrs. Paul Bivens, vice president; Mrs. Liss Yapple, secretary; Mrs. Gary Wisecup, treasurer.

Ways and Means: Mrs. Ed Linville, Mrs. Cooke Metzger. The group will meet the third Thursday each month in the annex at 8 p.m. The Williamsport first grade teachers, Mrs. Betty Shipley and Mrs. Mildred Skinner attended the meeting and expressed viewpoints. A vote of thanks must surely go to Mrs. Jay (Evelyn) Kaiser who laid all the groundwork in promoting this first meeting which is no small task by any means.

Happy Birthday
Twila West, Margaret Sampson, Diana Reynolds, Mar. 28; J. D. Williams, Johnny Furniss, Mar. 29; Mike Clark, Cinda Justice, Jonda Steinhauer, Phoebe Smiley (who will be 95) Mar. 31; Jack Hanson (now I know why he's such a clown) April Fool's Day, April 1; Troy McPherson (an honorable Westfall school board member) April 2. Belated greetings to lovely Becky Fenstermaker (Mar. 21) whose younger sister Rae was unhappy because I didn't list Becky last week but I plead innocent on the grounds no one told me. Same goes for David Duval who had a recent birthday. I will happily list the date — just please give me the word and the sooner the better. Am I forgiven, Rae?

We had two more surprise birthday parties — Saturday night at the Charlie and Esther Picklesimer's it was Esther's daughter Janet Lovett of Athens who was surprised with a birthday dinner complete with cake and 26 candles (only 3 more to go til the 29th and then, Janet, the birthdays stop, you know) Helping mommy blow out the candles was son Trent and husband Dave as well as grandparents, Darl and Bessie Miller, sister Donna (Mrs. Brad) Thompson and her Marci, cousin Beth Miller, sister Faith Ann (Lil Charlie) Picklesimer, brother Mike and Gail Stauffer and son Brent all of Williamsport; Uncle Shirley and Aunt Helen Stant and cousin John, of Whisler, Uncle Dick and Aunt Jean Markel, cousins, Mindy and Melanie of Chillicothe and Cousin Bob Stant and his bride-to-be Ginger Smalley, Circleville.

The honored guest received lovely gifts but even with all the excitement the Lovett's returned to Athens, Saturday night so they could be on hand Sunday morning to teach their

Cook Steps Up Giveaway Game Attack

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Liquor Director Donald D. Cook took another step Wednesday in his fight to end supermarket and gasoline station promotional games.

He wrote to U.S. Sen. William B. Saxbe, R-Ohio, urging the introduction of federal legislation to outlaw the games.

When he was Ohio attorney general, Saxbe was instrumental in aiding the liquor department to move against such games in supermarkets holding carryout beer and wine permits, virtually eliminating all such illegal operations in the state.

Cook cited the report of the Federal Trade Commission and findings of a House subcommittee on Activities of Regulatory Agencies in making his plea to Saxbe.

"Both of these studies," Cook wrote, "established conclusively that in many instances the games were managed so that the big prizes were distributed at the time and place most likely to serve the best interests of the sponsoring supermarket or oil company."

"The testimony presented at the hearings clearly indicates that a massive fraud and deception is being perpetrated on the public in the dishonest rigging of these contests which through various advertising media, the public has been led to believe are operated on a fair and honest basis."

St. Peter's dominates Rome, yet the atmosphere inside is that of a pleasant park where a visitor may ramble peacefully seeking out familiar things.

respective Sunday School classes.

Our other party was such a surprise that even the honored guest's husband was "kept in the dark," too. Evelyn and Norman Leist of our village and her mother, Mrs. Roy Strawser of Circleville journeyed to Laurelville to be Sunday dinner guests of Evelyn's sister Virginia and husband Gene Karshner or so she thought anyway. Much to her delighted surprise other family members arrived to make it a memorable day for our Evelyn and gathered round were: Mrs. Ada Pontius (aunt) Mr. and Mrs. Lou Shirley (aunt and uncle) Mrs. Curtis (Mildred) Keller, Larry and Linda (sister, nephew, niece) Gordon and Maxine (sister) Lloyd, their Debbie and Gordie, John (brother) and Ruth Ann Strawser, their four —Greg, Sandy, Trent and Robin, John and Karen (niece) Swackhamer and son Brent, a friend of Debbie Lloyds whose name Evelyn wasn't sure of and of course her mom and husband Norm and the hosts. Daughter Patty Kuhn was unable to join the festivities.

Sorry, no senior citizen again this week but please be patient with me. Truly I've had so many meetings, either my own or transporting the two teenagers these past several days that instead of Congress legislating for 3 day holidays, personally I'd prefer a longer day. Say 30 hours, maybe.

Williamsport News

By EILEEN EASTERDAY — Phone 986-3481

Each week's news seems to, without conscious thought, have on prevailing theme and this week it is talent.

A note from Mrs. Pearl (Elsie) Whaley brings the happy news that their son Bobby won first prize in a talent show at Da Nang, Vietnam, singing country western music. First prize was $50 and a 3 day R & R. (rest and recreation) in the country. Bobby is extending his tour in Vietnam and it is the hopes of his parents that they can persuade him not to do so. He will celebrate his birthday Easter Sunday April 6 and would surely enjoy cards. Sp-4 Charles R. Whaley, U.S. 51881223, U.S. Army Mortuary, Da Nang, A.P.O. San Francisco, 96337.

Sunday afternoon, my Amy, Marc, Becki and myself drove up to Grove City to attend the matinee of Brookpark Junior High's musical production "Take It Easy." Each and every member of the cast gave a really good performance but we were much impressed with the talent of Tracy Strawser.

Tracy is a daughter of Ray and Ann Jones Strawser formerly of this community but now Grove City residents. The Strawses have a host of friends and relatives in The Herald reading area. Tracy had a leading role and her musical numbers were excellent. Just remember in a few years when she is a leading lady on Broadway that you read her first rave review here.

Her twin sister Marcia was also in the production and handled her part very competently. The other Strawser family members are Lee Ann, Brad and Julie whom we thoroughly enjoyed visiting with at their home after the matinee. Others joining us for a buffet supper were Jim and Jean (Ann's sister) Tisdale and their Jimmie. They also attended the matinee.

P.T.A. Talent Show

After weeks of hard work the big night for the Williamsport P.T.A. Annual Talent Show finally arrived and as usual it was SRO (standing room only). Master of Ceremonies was Jerry Leist of local radio and judges were Mrs. Jan McKelvey, Miss Ruth Montelius and Charles Harter. No one envied them the difficult task of selecting winners from the three categories.

As is always the case in competitive activities some of the decisions were popular and some otherwise but nonetheless final — just very glad it was them, not this writer. In the first category pre-schoolers through third grade winners were: 1 Sandee Drummond (solo); 2 Crystal Metzger (tap dance); 3 Kindergarten Class (directed by Marcia Horch and Glenna Wisecup) action song.

Second category, fourth and fifth grades: 1 Barbara Mace, (tap dance); 2 Shana Willis (piano solo); 3 Drew Henson (solo) — another Glen Campbell!

Sixth grade thru eighth grade: 1 Gail Underwood (solo); 2 Rosemarie Mosley (piano solo); 3 Cindy Hamman (piano solo). Best of show awards were 1. Gail Underwood; 2. Rosemarie Mosley; 3. Barbara Mace.

In all there were 24 talent acts with a total of 40 boys and girls participating. Each one deserves special praise and while all did not win prize money they can all be classed winners since it takes the talents of each to provide an evening of such delightful entertainment.

During the intervals between each category while the judges were doing their "thing" the audience enjoyed the "Stephen Foster Medley" beautifully sung by Mrs. Cook (Jeanne) Metzger; a duet comprised of Don Greenwood and Clark Hunsicker and their rendition of "Old Man River"; the lovely voice of Mrs. Glen (Beverly) Whitten, Jr. singing "Easter Parade" and without doubt the hilarious "chorus girl" line doing their "biting" dance number — Marvin (Bubbles) Thompson Harvey (Holly) Looney, Wendell (Wanda) Hott, Ron (Bonnie) Beatty, Jimmie (Ginny) Mowery, David (Kitty) Drummond.

The grand finale was a drill team number by Cindy Hamman, Janet Hastings, Bunny Stevens, Vicki Christopher Conrle Drummond, Gail Underwood, Cindy Schleich, Janie Schein, Karen Baker and Elyse Rhinesmith.

The 13th is considered by many to be unlucky but not so my good neighbor, Mrs. Una Higman who proudly announces the birth of her 13th grandchild, on Friday, March 14, in Fayette Memorial Hospital to daddy Lowell and mama Mary Fredricks Higman of Washington C. H. Born at 7:05 p.m. Thomas Edward Higman weighed in at 9 pounds 2 ounces and has one sister, Lora, and a brother Sammy. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Irene Fredricks also of Washington C. H.

It's that time of year for college students to have their spring break and some of those home for a few days of late hours and late sleeping are Vicki Sykes, Riverside White Cross School of Nursing, Nancy Fenstermaker, Otterbein, Marsha Reynolds, Ohio State (returned Monday) Steve Steinhauer, Otterbein, Dave Stevens, Ohio Northern. Charles Palmer has returned to classes at Wilmington (tall, tanned and terrific).

He spent most of his break helping dad Frank till the soil on the farm near Kinderhook. Lee and John Cook, (O.S.U. and O.U.—C respectively) sons of Carroll and Margaret Cook and friend David Patrick, Camfield, Ohio drove to Florida and visited David's aunt and uncle at Clearwater, crossed over to Hollywood and broke bread with the Cook boys grandparents, John and Hyacinth Dearth. Don, Jr. and Peggy Cook with baby Beth have returned to studies at O.S.U. after being home with Don, Sr. and Jean Cook and Diane, a student at O.U.—C.

Sarah Barnes and brother Paul are home from Otterbein — Sarah with a B.A. in Home Ec and busily getting ready for her forthcoming wedding day April 12. The lucky groom-to-be is Dan Davis. The open church ceremony will be at 3:30 p.m. in the Williamsport United Methodist Church.

Happy Anniversary
It was anniversary waltz time, Saturday, March 22, for Donald Eugene and Glenna Stinehauer and sharing the event were their offspring, Steve, Don and Carol Sue Watts Steinhauer, Richard and Sue Steinhauer Banks. They all had dinner at Marzetti's Restaurant in Cols. Gene and Glenna also have two lovely grandchildren, Kelly and Bryan — children of Don and Carol Sue.

Boy Scouts
Boy Scout Troop 542 will sponsor a spaghetti supper this Saturday, in the American Legion Hall. They hope to raise funds for their summer camp project. Serving starts at 5 p.m.

Around Town
Mrs. Arthur Frazier has been very ill these past several days and is slightly improved. Members of her family have been stopping in but since Mrs. Frazier is so ill I have not disturbed her rest to know for sure just who. Sincerely wish her a complete recovery very soon and "Happy Birthday" March 27.

Mr. Harry Wilkey returned home last Thursday after being a patient in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Mrs. Una Higman had her daughters, Judy Speakman. Her hubby Dick and sons Steve and Bob of Clarkburg, Myrna Hosler and her Brent of Circleville and a son Lowell Higman and family of Washington C. H. and her sister, Inez Lingo for Sunday dinner.

Judy Wright was Saturday evening dinner guests at the Easterday home. Judy, our Becki and Tanis Galloway then met with Nancy Mace at her home to practice their "swinging" band numbers for the talent show. Becki was an overnight guest of Judy.

Miss Diana Reynolds, a teacher at Miami Trace was a weekend guest of parents Gerald (Johnny) and Doris Reynolds. Other visitors were Roger Clark and daughter Janne's b.f. Tim Dewey.

Pete and Pearl Cochenour and granddaughter Crystal (daughter of Jim Cochenour) drove down to Collinsville Saturday and remained overnight with Bill and Vallis Cochenour Long and their four, Brett, Jeff, Becky and Jackie.

Mrs. Chloe Pitt of Smith Nursing Home visited Sunday afternoon with her son Charles Pitt and his family and with her sisters, Mrs. Hattie Wallace and Mrs. Ben Compton. Mrs. Pitt is in fairly good health.

Palm Sunday, March 30 will be an important date in the life of young Eric Scott Palmer, son of Doug and Elaine Miller Palmer, since this will be his baptismal day at Mt. Pleasant United Methodist Church. He is the only grandchild of Frank and Lois Palmer.

The beautiful palms now gracing the altar at Mt. Pleasant are on loan from Helen's Beauty Shop here in our town. That Helen is a flower grower!

4-H
Junior and Senior Deercreek Livestock met in the school house last Friday evening with their advisors, Paul Schein, Eugene Schleich, Dr. Paul Fenstermaker, Alfred Johnson and Ellwyn Hulise. Several points of business were discussed and one of the most important was the next meeting will be Friday, April 11, 8:00 p.m. same place and it is vital all members be registered at this meeting as no new members will be accepted after this date. A movie of interest to 4-H'ers will be shown.

Clean Up Day
Gather up your rags, mops, brushes, buckets and any other cleaning type materials and join the clean-up crew at 9 a.m. this Saturday, March 29 at the Methodist Church. This invitation is open to anyone with a desire to help clean.

Open House
Sunday, March 30 from 3-5 p.m. the Methodist Church will observe open house both at the church and the parsonage. It will begin with a short worship service. Should you wish to invite anyone to attend please feel free to do so. Mrs. Bea Anderson, chairman of Worship Committee and members, Judy Wolfe, Mary Alice Schein, Rosemary Hunsicker, Sandy Wisecup, Twila West, Marie Gibson, Lawrence Ater, Byron Carter, and Rev. Ed Linville have been very busy with preparations.

The Wesley Choir, comprised of students fifth thru eighth grade, provided the special music during church services last Sunday. They are under the capable direction of Mrs. Ray (Marcia) Horch Jr., and Mrs. Robert (Evelyn) Hastings. They could use more members and while I know it is difficult at this age level to cope with home work and extra curricular activities, why not make a special effort to give a bit of your time for your church? Perhaps the parents could encourage their boy or girl to join. The congregation does so appreciate hearing the special numbers. Where are all the boys? I could only count two and they are to be commended.

Kindergarten
Mothers of hopeful kindergartners met in the church annex (Methodist recently and elected officers for the 1969-1970 school year. They are: Mrs. Steve Fullen, president; Mrs. Paul Bivens, vice president; Mrs. Liss Yapple, secretary; Mrs. Gary Wisecup, treasurer.

Ways and Means: Mrs. Ed Linville, Mrs. Cooke Metzger. The group will meet the third Thursday each month in the annex at 8 p.m. The Williamsport first grade teachers, Mrs. Betty Shipley and Mrs. Mildred Skinner attended the meeting and expressed viewpoints. A vote of thanks must surely go to Mrs. Jay (Evelyn) Kaiser who laid all the groundwork in promoting this first meeting which is no small task by any means.

Happy Birthday
Twila West, Margaret Sampson, Diana Reynolds, Mar. 28; J. D. Williams, Johnny Furniss, Mar. 29; Mike Clark, Cinda Justice, Jonda Steinhauer, Phoebe Smiley (who will be 95) Mar. 31; Jack Hanson (now I know why he's such a clown) April Fool's Day, April 1; Troy McPherson (an honorable Westfall school board member) April 2. Belated greetings to lovely Becky Fenstermaker (Mar. 21) whose younger sister Rae was unhappy because I didn't list Becky last week but I plead innocent on the grounds no one told me. Same goes for David Duvall who had a recent birthday. I will happily list the date — just please give me the word and the sooner the better. Am I forgiven, Rae?

We had two more surprise birthday parties — Saturday night at the Charlie and Esther Picklesimer's it was Esther's daughter Janet Lovett of Athens who was surprised with a birthday dinner complete with cake and 26 candles (only 3 more to go til the 29th and then, Janet, the birthdays stop, you know) Helping mommy blow out the candles was son Trent and husband Dave as well as grandparents, Darl and Bessie Miller, sister Donna (Mrs. Brad) Thompson and her Marci, cousin Beth Miller, sister Faith Ann (Lil Charlie) Picklesimer, brother Mike and Gail Stauffer and son Brent all of Williamsport; Uncle Shirley and Aunt Helen Stant and cousin John, of Whisler, Uncle Dick and Aunt Jean Markel, cousins, Mindy and Melanie of Chillicothe and Cousin Bob Stant and his bride-to-be Ginger Smalley, Circleville.

The honored guest received lovely gifts but even with all the excitement the Lovett's returned to Athens, Saturday night so they could be on hand Sunday morning to teach their

Cook Steps Up Giveaway Game Attack

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Liquor Director Donald D. Cook took another step Wednesday in his fight to end supermarket and gasoline station promotional games.

He wrote to U.S. Sen. William B. Saxbe, R-Ohio, urging the introduction of federal legislation to outlaw the games.

When he was Ohio attorney general, Saxbe was instrumental in aiding the liquor department to move against such games in supermarkets holding carryout beer and wine permits, virtually eliminating all such illegal operations in the state.

Cook cited the report of the Federal Trade Commission and findings of a House subcommittee on Activities of Regulatory Agencies in making his plea to Saxbe.

"Both of these studies," Cook wrote, "established conclusively that in many instances the games were managed so that the big prizes were distributed at the time and place most likely to serve the best interests of the sponsoring supermarket or oil company."

"The testimony presented at the hearings clearly indicates that a massive fraud and deception is being perpetrated on the public in the dishonest rigging of these contests which through various advertising media, the public has been led to believe are operated on a fair and honest basis."

St. Peter's dominates Rome, yet the atmosphere inside is that of a pleasant park where a visitor may ramble peacefully seeking out familiar things.

respective Sunday School classes.

Our other party was such a surprise that even the honored guest's husband was "kept in the dark," too. Evelyn and Norman Leist of our village and her mother, Mrs. Roy Strawser of Circleville journeyed to Laurelville to be Sunday dinner guests of Evelyn's sister Virginia and husband Gene Karschner or so she thought anyway. Much to her delighted surprise other family members arrived to make it a memorable day for our Evelyn and gathered round were: Mrs. Ada Pontius (aunt) Mr. and Mrs. Lou Shirey (aunt and uncle) Mrs. Curtis (Mildred) Keller, Larry and Linda (sister, nephew, niece) Gordon and Maxine (sister) Lloyd, their Debbie and Gordie, John (brother) and Ruth Ann Strawser, their four — Greg, Sandy, Trent and Robin, John and Karen (niece) Swackhamer and son Brent, a friend of Debbie Lloyds whose name Evelyn wasn't sure of and of course her mom and husband Norm and the hosts. Daughter Patty Kuhn was unable to join the festivities.

Sorry, no senior citizen again this week but please be patient with me. Truly I've had so many meetings, either my own or transporting the two teenagers these past several days that instead of Congress legislating for 3 day holidays, personally I'd prefer a longer day. Say 30 hours, maybe.

Westfall Boosters
A last minute call from Dave Long, president of Westfall Booster Club informs us the Boosters are making plans for a ham and chicken dinner, April 20, so circle the date on your calendar now and more details will come your way in a week or so.

Dear Abby:

Woman Still Has 'Crush' On Pastor

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the woman who had fallen in love with her pastor interested me because I, too, am in love with my pastor and always will be.

You advised that woman to change to a sister church and to keep her "love" to herself. A minister wrote in, disagreeing with your advice, and said he would advise the woman to confess her love for the minister, after which he would recommend that she see a psychiatrist who would help her to work her problems thru.

You were both wrong. In my case, neither changing churches nor seeing a psychiatrist could ever change my love.

Here is my recommendation: In public, be a good actress, and pretend only a platonic, friendly interest in him. At home, keep busy, busy, busy. Scrub the floor twice, instead of once, if necessary; pursue interesting and time-consuming hobbies to keep the mind from dwelling on "him."

According to the "rules," I must not be in love with this remarkable man who is the most wonderful person I have ever known. But my heart does not know these "rules," and my love for him will endure as long as I live.

IN LOVE FOREVER
DEAR "IN LOVE": Since you've already convinced yourself that you will be in love with this unattainable man "forever," you surely shall be. A "love" which is neither expressed nor reciprocated brings only frustration and pain. If you choose to punish yourself by looking, listening, and longing, with no hope of fulfillment, you are welcome to the pleasure — and pain. I suggest you scrub less and face reality.

DEAR ABBY: Every Christmas my husband gives me a cash gift (usually $25) and tells me to go out and buy myself something I'd really enjoy. How wonderful!
Then a week later he asks

Jury Ruling Brings Blast From Judge

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Judge James T. McDermott criticized a jury for acquitting a man charged in the 1966 gang slaying of two teen-aged boys in North Philadelphia.

A jury of eight men and four women Tuesday night freed John H. Thomas, 21, of murder charges stemming from the shooting deaths.

"He was just as guilty as he could possibly be," the judge said.

"Do you hear those sirens out there?" Judge McDermott asked the jury. "That's the kind of city you have. That's some other mother's son who has just been shot down. And it will go on like that until law and order is restored."

Judge McDermott admitted the case against Thomas was not as strong as it could have been. But he said the jury did not know everything about the case.

The jury returned the verdict after seven hours' deliberation. Although cleared of the murder charges, Thomas is not a free man. He was returned to prison to complete a one-to-three-year sentence for an auto burglary conviction in a previous case.

if he can "borrow" it back, and I never see it again. What advice have you for me?

NO RESENT
DEAR NO: The minute you get your hands on your "present," either spend it or bank it.

DEAR ABBY: You keep telling kids who write in that they should be happy to help with the housework. I think you are wrong.

My dad works all day to support his family. That's HIS job. My brother and I go to school all day and do two hours of homework at night. That's OUR job.

So why shouldn't my mother do the housework? That's HER job. It's not like she was sick worked outside the house, or had little kids to take care of. She always has plenty of time for golf and bridge. Why not for housework?

TIED OUT AT 16
DEAR TIRED OUT: If your mother plays golf and bridge INSTEAD of doing her housework, shame on her. But if you're exaggerating, shame on you!

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for answering "Wondering Mother's" letter the way you did.

I, too, was the child of parents who were married after mother became pregnant, and I agree with you. Don't lie.

The children almost always find out anyway. I did. I hope children who do learn the circumstances of their parents' marriage do as I have done. Not once in the 35 years that I have known have I said one word to my parents about it.

Now they know that I know because we all celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary quietly, and I was nearly 50 at the time. All I said to them was, "Thank you for the wonderful home we were raised in and all the love you have given us."

This is ONE of the things I feel I have done right in my life.

Mississippi Job-Training Program Takes In Family

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi has begun a job-training program under which it finds the employer first—and then trains the worker. And training is given not only to the breadwinner of the house but also to the other members of the family.

"There is a lot more to ending poverty and filling empty stomachs than handing out piles of welfare money," says Dr. P.T. Bankston, associate director of the center.

About 12,000 field hands—both men and women, many of whom were cotton workers—have been thrown out of work in recent years with the advent of federal minimum wage laws, weed control chemicals and advanced mechanization.

Into this situation stepped the Mississippi Research and development Center.

The state took over the unused Greenville Air Force Base to start a pilot project with money from state agencies, the federal government and the Ford Foundation. And the Delta Resources Development Center was born. Today, some 300 persons live and work and learn at the center.

A trainee, sent to the project by the state welfare office, begins with a basic education class to learn to read and write. In the afternoon, he starts an evaluation program to determine his skills and special aptitudes. One such experiment requires the trainee to take a lock apart and put it back together, following pictorial instructions.

At the end of six weeks, a trainee has taken 100 tests and typically has shown ability in about 30 areas, indicating he could be trained for any one of several hundred jobs.

Then an employer is located before the training begins, so it can be directed toward a specific job.

The one facility in actual production at the center is a wire harness plant, turning out material for a washing machine company. Center officials say it is making money.

Another company, Trailco, Inc., has broken ground for its first plant in Mississippi and expects to be in operation at Greenville by September. In the meantime, a trailer-truck assembly line identical to the one used by Trailco will be set up at the center to train workers.

A manufacturer of knitted clothing plans to locate production operations in one of the large buildings on the base in the near future.

While the husband is undergoing job training, his wife and children also are learning new skills. The wife learns to budget her husband's paycheck, for example, and how to most efficiently purchase groceries, clothes and household items. Everybody is indoctrinated in simple sanitation procedures.

Mississippi Job-Training Program Takes In Family

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi has begun a job-training program under which it finds the employer first—and then trains the worker. And training is given not only to the breadwinner of the house but also to the other members of the family.

"There is a lot more to ending poverty and filling empty stomachs than handing out piles of welfare money," says Dr. P.T. Bankston, associate director of the center.

About 12,000 field hands—both men and women, many of whom were cotton workers—have been thrown out of work in recent years with the advent of federal minimum wage laws, weed control chemicals and advanced mechanization.

Into this situation stepped the Mississippi Research and development Center.

The state took over the unused Greenville Air Force Base to start a pilot project with money from state agencies, the federal government and the Ford Foundation. And the Delta Resources Development Center was born. Today, some 300 persons live and work and learn at the center.

A trainee, sent to the project by the state welfare office, begins with a basic education class to learn to read and write. In the afternoon, he starts an evaluation program to determine his skills and special aptitudes. One such experiment requires the trainee to take a lock apart and put it back together, following pictorial instructions. At the end of six weeks, a trainee has taken 100 tests and typically has shown ability in about 30 areas, indicating he could be trained for any one of several hundred jobs.

Then an employer is located before the training begins, so it can be directed toward a specific job.

The one facility in actual production at the center is a wire harness plant, turning out material for a washing machine company. Center officials say it is making money.

Another company, Trailco, Inc., has broken ground for its first plant in Mississippi and expects to be in operation at Greenville by September. In the meantime, a trailer-truck assembly line identical to the one used by Trailco will be set up at the center to train workers.

A manufacturer of knitted clothing plans to locate production operations in one of the large buildings on the base in the near future.

While the husband is undergoing job training, his wife and children also are learning new skills. The wife learns to budget her husband's paycheck, for example, and how to most efficiently purchase groceries, clothes and household items. Everybody is indoctrinated in simple sanitation procedure.

Yahya Takes Over Pakistan Government, Seeks Order

KARACHI (AP) — Pakistan's new military dictator, Gen. Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan, told his turbulent nation back sanity" to set the stage for free elections.

"I wish to make it absolutely clear to you that I have no ambition other than the creation of conditions conducive to the establishment of a constitutional government," he said in his first broadcast after taking over from President Mohammed Ayub Khan.

Sixteen hours before Ayub Khan resigned after appointing Yahya supreme commander of Pakistan's armed forces and chief martial law administrator. Yahya's promise to "bring back sanity" was the same made by Ayub when he seized power in 1958 and ruled by martial law for three years. Ayub, who announced earlier he would not seek re-election next year, admitted Tuesday night this did not satisfy his political opponents and he could not cope with mob violence wracking Pakistan's eastern half, on the other side of India.

"My first task is to put the administration back on the rails," Yahya said. "Strikes and industrial unrest have brought the nation to the edge of an abyss. He assured the people the armed forces "have no political ambitions and will not prop up any individual or party," and he indicated he would go through with constitutional reforms promised by Ayub before his resignation. Yahya, 52, is considered to have pro-Western views despite visits to Moscow and Peking earlier this year. He fought with British forces in Italy and the Middle East during World War II and was appointed Ayub's military commander in East Pakistan in 1962. In the 1965 Indian-Pakistani war he commanded an infantry division and was decorated for bravery. He became commander-in-chief of the army in 1966.

Martial law regulations announced by Radio Pakistan banned all strikes, demonstrations and political meetings; imposed strict press censorship, and provided for establishment of military courts.

High Salary Causes Chronic Ailments

NEW DELHI (AP) — The more your salary the more prone you are to certain chronic ailments, according to an Indian medical survey.

Four out of 10 families with a monthly income of more than rupees 2,000 ($266) suffer from high blood pressure, diabetes, cancer and heart ailments, the survey said.

The percentage falls to 11 in the income bracket of rupees 75 to 150 ($10 to $20).

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon told a highly critical Senate subcommittee Wednesday the Safeguard antimissile system would provide incentives for the Soviet Union to negotiate nuclear arms limitations.

David R. Packard, deputy secretary of defense, thus went to the heart of the disarmament subcommittee's argument that the $7 billion missile defense plan would stimulate a nuclear arms race.

Noting the Safeguard's mission is to protect the U.S. nuclear capability, Packard said it would deter a Soviet attack by guaranteeing "an unacceptably high risk of devastating retaliation."

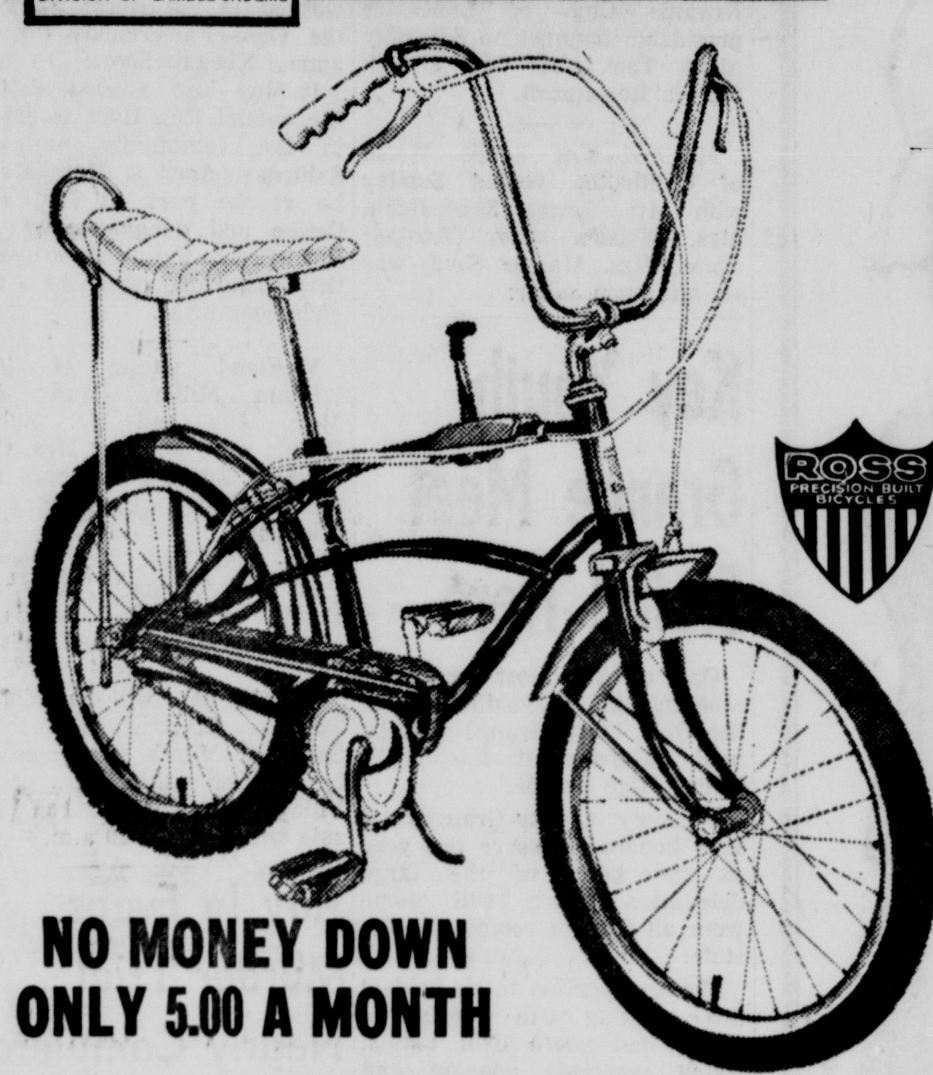

"The Safeguard deployment, therefore, shows the Soviet Union that we are not planning to attack them and that they can reasonably negotiate arms control agreements that protect deterrence while giving up offensive first strike use of long range nuclear weapons," he contended.

"Safeguard gives the Soviets another incentive to negotiate. It shows them that any effort on their part to achieve a successful first strike is fruitless," he added.

The Safeguard system calls for deployment of Sprint and Spartan interceptor missiles at 12 sites to protect the nation's missile and bomber deterrent force.

Bill On Health Charges Hits Rough Road In Ohio Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Senate Wednesday. Lobbyists are hoping a remark made by the Senate's majority leader will not kill a bill to change the support charges for mentally ill and mentally retarded patients.

The bill to lessen the financial burden on relatives or parents who have dependents in state hospitals longer than 120 days was adopted 33-0 in the Senate Wednesday.

The bill provides a flat rate of $5 a day for mentally ill patients and a flat rate of $4 a day for mentally retarded patients as the support charge for those hospitalized longer than 120 days.

The current support charge is $8.45 a day for the mentally ill and $7.10 a day for the mentally retarded. These rates would continue to be paid until 120 days had passed.

The bill was amended to delete a provision requiring families with incomes of $3,000 a year to pay 10 per cent of the support costs of an institutionalized dependent.

Stoutsville Has Deputy Registrar

Mrs. Venita Daft, Stoutsville, is the deputy registrar for that community and has 1969 auto license tags available.

Although the amendment was sponsored by the Democrats, many Republicans defected and voted for it.

The Senate's No. 1 Republican, Sen. Theodore M. Gray,

OHIO CASH GRAIN
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Dept. of Agri. cash grain prices: No. 2 red wheat unchanged to 1 higher 1.17-1.20, mostly 1.17-1.19; No. 2 yellow corn mostly unchanged 1.04-1.08 per bu., mostly 1.06-1.07; No. 2 oats mostly unchanged .58-.65, mostly .60-.65; soybeans mostly unchanged 2.43-2.50, mostly 2.45-2.49.

R-3 Piqua, told the Senate that an agreement was made in advance and "those who voted for the amendment have just killed this bill."

Since Gray voted for the bill, he apparently is leaving the kill job to the Republican-controlled House.

Fireman Overcome

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — One fireman was overcome by smoke Wednesday while fighting a fire in the cloak room of the Faculty Club at Ohio State University. The blaze, of undetermined origin, was confined to the cloak room.

Student Loans Being Slashed

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Thousands of needy Ohio students could be denied a college education because of a cut-back in National Defense Student Loan program funds, it was reported Wednesday.

Robert McKay, president of the Ohio Association of Student Financial Administrators, said tentative allocations for the program are down about 25 per cent from the money available in the current fiscal year.

He said this comes at a time when requests for student defense loans are rising rapidly.

Ohioan Says Castro Ready For Talks

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro believes that many problems existing between his island and the United States "can be resolved in a spirit of mutual respect and dignity," according to Toledo industrialist Edward Lamb.

This conclusion is based on Castro's belief that the Nixon administration is taking a "much less bellicose" attitude toward Cuba than previous administrations, said Lamb, who returned Wednesday from a 10-day visit to Cuba.

Jury In Evans Murder Trial Nearly Complete

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The selection of a jury for the first - degree murder trial of Black Nationalist leader Fred "Ahmed" Evans may be completed today.

Eleven members of the 12-man jury have been tentatively seated since examinations of prospective jurors began Monday. Three alternates also must be chosen, and the prosecution and defense had six preemptory challenges apiece that allow them to dismiss jurors without giving a stated reason.

Three more jurors were selected Wednesday during hearings which included a refusal by Common Pleas Judge George J. McMonagle to throw out three of seven murder counts against Evans.

Evans is charged with killing three white Cleveland policemen and a Negro civilian last July 23 at the outbreak of disturbances in Cleveland's Glenville area.

Urge Legislation On Foreign Labor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Michael A. Feighan, D - Ohio, and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., introduced legislation Wednesday that would tighten restrictions on immigrant Mexican laborers.

In a joint statement, the two lawmakers said the alien work force contributes to poverty, unemployment and low wages in border areas. The bill calls for criminal prosecution of people who willfully employ aliens illegally.

Columbus Resident Injured By Bomb

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police believe a synthetic bomb with the explosive power of three sticks of dynamite was used Wednesday in an apparent attempt on a restaurant manager's life.

Pete Paras, 30, who operates a suburban Whitehall restaurant, was not hurt seriously in the blast, which demolished his luxury sports car.

Key Youth Grange Meet Slated Here

One of the most important meetings in the youth work of the Ohio State Grange will be held Saturday at the Teays Valley High School.

Pickaway County Granges are very honored to serve this year as the hosts of the large delegation which will come from all Grange counties in the state.

The competition to be held at this meeting will consist of junior and youth drill teams, young marrieds opening and closing, and third degree ritual presented by the youth.

Judges for the contest will be the Ohio State Grange Master and Mrs. James Ross, state youth advisers Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jones and Ohio State Grange Lecturer, Gustav Umbach.

In addition to the officers from the Ohio State Grange a special guest will be the newly appointed National Youth Chairman from Pennsylvania.

All grangers in the county are serving in some capacity for this state meeting. Many persons are contributing food, women are working in the kitchen, men serve as gatekeepers, and the youth are assisting with registration and welcoming the guests, which will number over 500 grangers.

Darbyville

A party was held Sat. March 15 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Martindale at Grove City, entertaining the junior members of Darbyville Nazarene Church. All enjoyed an hour of "Lucy and her puppets." Lucy was played by Mrs. Shirley Martindale and puppets were made by Evelyn Kaiser.

Refreshments were served to the following guests: Mrs. Ethel Sullivan and daughter Andrea, Mrs. Helen Tedwell and daughter Debbie, Mrs. W. E. Schmitter and son Jeff, Mrs. Kathleen Conley and daughter Teresa, Teresa Perkins, Brenda Tilton, Jim Schwalbauch, Tim and Ronnie McNeal, Ricky Hill, Randy, Daird and Donnie McNeal, Robert Stone, Kathy Nicholas, Lee Ann Bower, Ronda Sutrgell, Sylvia Boyer, Randy Karn, Ramona Elfrink, Susie Boyer, Terry and Randy Maggard, Mrs. Betty Hux and son Ralph, Richie, Lynnette, and Kyle Martindale, Tommy and Vicki Scarbrough, Mike and David Boyzel, Mrs. Evelyn Kaiser, Jerri and Jeff, Jared, Annette, Lowell, Darwin Brinton Martindale, and Ruth Gantz.

Bill On Health Charges Hits Rough Road In Ohio Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Senate Wednesday. Lobbyists are hoping a remark made by the Senate's majority leader will not kill a bill to change the support charges for mentally ill and mentally retarded patients.

The bill to lessen the financial burden on relatives or parents who have dependents in state hospitals longer than 120 days was adopted 33-0 in the Senate Wednesday.

The bill provides a flat rate of $5 a day for mentally ill patients and a flat rate of $4 a day for mentally retarded patients as the support charge for those hospitalized longer than 120 days.

The current support charge is $8.45 a day for the mentally ill and $7.10 a day for the mentally retarded. These rates would continue to be paid until 120 days had passed.

The bill was amended to delete a provision requiring families with incomes of $3,000 a year to pay 10 per cent of the support costs of an institutionalized dependent.

Stoutsville Has Deputy Registrar

Mrs. Venita Daft, Stoutsville, is the deputy registrar for that community and has 1969 auto license tags available.

Although the amendment was sponsored by the Democrats, many Republicans defected and voted for it.

The Senate's No. 1 Republican, Sen. Theodore M. Gray,

R-3 Piqua, told the Senate that an agreement was made in advance and "those who voted for the amendment have just killed this bill."

Since Gray voted for the bill, he apparently is leaving the kill job to the Republican-controlled House.

Fireman Overcome

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — One fireman was overcome by smoke Wednesday while fighting a fire in the cloak room of the Faculty Club at Ohio State University. The blaze, of undetermined origin, was confined to the cloak room.

Student Loans Being Slashed

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Thousands of needy Ohio students could be denied a college education because of a cutback in National Defense Student Loan program funds, it was reported Wednesday.

Robert McKay, president of the Ohio Association of Student Financial Administrators, said tentative allocations for the program are down about 25 per cent from the money available in the current fiscal year.

He said this comes at a time when requests for student defense loans are rising rapidly.

Ohioan Says Castro Ready For Talks

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro believes that many problems existing between his island and the United States "can be resolved in a spirit of mutual respect and dignity," according to Toledo industrialist Edward Lamb.

This conclusion is based on Castro's belief that the Nixon administration is taking a "much less bellicose" attitude toward Cuba than previous administrations, said Lamb, who returned Wednesday from a 10-day visit to Cuba.

Jury In Evans Murder Trial Nearly Complete

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The selection of a jury for the first - degree murder trial of Black Nationalist leader Fred "Ahmed" Evans may be completed today.

Eleven members of the 12-man jury have been tentatively seated since examinations of prospective jurors began Monday. Three alternates also must be chosen, and the prosecution and defense had six preemptory challenges apiece that allow them to dismiss jurors without giving a stated reason.

Three more jurors were selected Wednesday during hearings which included a refusal by Common Pleas Judge George J. McMonagle to throw out three of seven murder counts against Evans.

Evans is charged with killing three white Cleveland policemen and a Negro civilian last July 23 at the outbreak of disturbances in Cleveland's Glenville area.

Area Airport Supported By Chamber Group

Editor's Note: The following is one of several articles featured by the Herald this week to commemorate Chamber of Commerce Week. The Chamber's theme for this week is "Free Enterprise — Our Way of Life." The work of the Chamber in our community is based on the use of private funds and private manpower combined for the public good. Thus, the Chamber is totally an expression of private enterprise at work for the good of the community. It is truly an important contributor to free enterprise, our way of life.

The purpose of the Chamber of Commerce Airport Committee is to promote construction of an airport in Pickaway County.

The activities of the committee include working with governmental groups, investigating locations, and educating citizens about the advantages of an airport to local economic growth.

The Chamber of Commerce has been actively supporting an airport since the inception of the state grant of $100,000 for this purpose, which was made available in 1964.

The first committee was active in trying to promote a joint airport between Ross and Pickaway County. This idea was dissolved when Ross County built its own facility. Pickaway County turned to promoting its own.

THE position of the airport committee at this time is relatively inactive in that the airport authority which was appointed in January of this year has not yet obtained the needed commitments on porperty which they must first have before the Chamber Committee can actively engage in obtaining funds to purchase this needed property.

Also, this committee is and will actively promote the education process needed to convince the general public that an airport is indirectly a great asset to our community, in that it promoted industrial movement in our county.

Once the land commitments are obtained the Chamber Committee will immediately begin a fund raising campaign.

Members of the Airport Committee are: Asa Elsea, chairman, S. J. Fischer, Don Goodchild, George Hamrick, Robert Johnson, H. H. Shut-teworth, and J. Boyd Stout.

Rep. Miller Says AEDP Does Well

WASHINGTON (AP) —Rep. Clarence E. Miller, R - Ohio, said Wednesday the Appalachia Economic Development Program has been effective in cutting red tape to get things done.

He cited as an example the rapid progress being made in replacing the Silver Bridge over the Ohio River.

Miller told the House Public Works Committee that the Appalachia program has coordinated federal agencies and served as a catalyst to provide impetus for often sluggish federal bureaus or departments.

As an example, he pointed to the December 1967 collapse of the Silver Bridge, which spanned the Ohio River between Kanauga, Ohio, and Point Pleasant, W. Va.

"The Appalachia Regional Commission stepped out of its usual role to coordinate the efforts of several federal agencies in beginning work on a new bridge," Miller said.

"Contributing $2 million to get things started, the commission served mainly as a catalyst, cutting red tape and getting other agencies to work together.

"The new bridge is supposed to open to traffic next December. Without the commission, it could very well still be on the

'Disassociated Sirhan' Killed RFK, Psychiatrist Claims

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A psychiatrist says there is a usual Sirhan Bishara Sirhan and a dissociated Sirhan. They are both sick.

The usual Sirhan, he said, was quite harmless—one of hundreds of thousands of paranoid schizophrenics in the United States. The dissociated one killed Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The distinction was drawn at Sirhan's murder trial Wednesday by Dr. Bernard L. Diamond, a University of California psychiatrist who has been instrumental in developing the defense of diminished responsibility. That concept, Sirhan's lawyers hope, will persuade the jury to return a lesser verdict than first-degree murder and thus spare Sirhan from the gas chamber.

Paranoid schizophrenics are no danger to anyone but themselves, Diamond said. In Sirhan's case, Diamond maintained under stiff and sometimes acrimonious cross-examination, "it was a combination of dissociative state superimposed over the paranoid schizophrenic state that caused him to kill Sen. Kennedy."

A dissociative state as defined by the psychiatrist is a trance. Sirhan, sitting tieless and coatless at the defense table—perhaps the only man comfortable in the small, hot courtroom—appeared unconcerned while Diamond said in a dozen different ways that he is nearly mad.

Lausche Defends Denial Of Loans

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Frank J. Lausche, former U.S. senator and Ohio governor, said Wednesday that college students who riot should be denied federal aid regardless of whether they are convicted of a felony.

Lausche told Toledo Kiwanis Club members that campus disorders are one of today's "most serious problems" and said they are "tearing away the foundation of the American system of government."

But Sirhan reacted sharply. At one point Sirhan slapped his hand down on the table and cursed. Another time court officials moved to his side and quietly told him to simmer down.

Lausche Defends
Denial Of Loans

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Frank J. Lausche, former U.S. senator and Ohio governor, said Wednesday that college students who riot should be denied federal aid regardless of whether they are convicted of a felony.

Lausche told Toledo Kiwanis Club members that campus disorders are one of today's "most serious problems" and said they are "tearing away the foundation of the American system of government."

But Sirhan reacted sharply when co-prosecutor David N. Fitts suggested he is a liar.

At one point Sirhan slapped his hand down on the table and quietly told him to simmer down. Another time court officials moved to his side and cursed. Another time court officials moved to his side and cursed.

Blue Birds Are Friends Of Garden Enthusiasts

BLUEBIRD BOXES — Placement of bluebird boxes is very important according to Dr. Richard W. Samuel (left) and David S. Craven, local outdoor enthusiasts. The box should be about two feet off the ground to discourage sparrows from using it.

Dr. Richard W. Samuel, local dentist, and David S. Craven, U. S. Naval Commander, retired, are good friends, and share many hobbies.

They both love the out of doors, fishing, bird watching, gardening, and anything to do with conservation.

Their latest interest is building blue bird boxes. They have been busy cutting out and making these boxes on a production line scale and have been placing these in strategic places around the county.

According to Dr. Samuel the bluebird has become a scarcity and that beautiful flash of blue is a rare sight. But in most regions it could be more abundant if more nest sites were available. It has been demonstrated that marked increases in population could be produced by community bird house campaigns.

THESE two enthusiasts say the box should be made of soft lumber, not over one inch thick with the entrance hole 1½ inch in diameter. This small opening will discourage starlings. Place the box on a post about two feet off the ground, this discourages sparrows.

Don't place the boxes too close together since the bluebird requires considerable territory. The exact dimensions and blueprints of the boxes can be secured from the Ohio Dept. of Natural Resources, Division of Wildlife, Dublin Rd., Columbus, Ohio.

The bluebird is a friend of the gardener since it's diet consists of two-thirds insects: grasshoppers, crickets, beetles, and caterpillars. They catch these on the ground. To recognize this bird, the body is about 7" long with the male having a bright blue head, back and tail with reddish brown breast.

The female is bright blue only on wings and tail and is a duller brown below. The young have very restricted blue and below they are white mottled with gray.

The call is a Cher wee, a sweet series of two or three notes. The plaintive song is a rapid series of soft single and slurred double cheeury notes, varying in pitch. The eggs are pale blue, unmarked, from four to six in number, size .82 x .64. Two broods are reared.

Their range is from Newfoundland to Florida, the Gulf Coast, west to Montana, southwest to Texas and Arizona. It winters from Southern New England and Southern Michigan South.

Timely Tips

Check pruning tools.

Gradually remove winter mulch from around your plants, not from bed.

Start pruning roses, rough pruning first, then back to the green wood.

Clean rose beds of debris, especially if disease was present last year. When weather warms up to 40 and will be there for a few hours spray with a dormant spray. This is a must if black spot was present last season.

Order new rosebushes to replace losses.

Lawn fertilizer can be spread any time as long as soil is not muddy and soft.

Plan your annual border.

Pre-emergent crabgrass chemicals should be applied before mid-April to halt crabgrass germination in May.

As Tulips break through the soil, spray shoots with Captan, Phaltan, or Fomate to control Botrytis blight.

Prune grapevines, shade trees, and fruit trees.

Mr. Robert Brehmer says that if you get any of the bulb flowers already growing in pots this Spring, be sure to keep them growing until the leaves dry up. Then store them in a cool place and plant the bulbs outdoors next fall.

Here are some other bits of interest that he passed on to your garden editor.

This is the ideal time to reseed those bare spots in your lawn. Freezing and thawing will not affect the grass seed. In fact, it will benefit since it will aid the covering of the seed.

Also get a headstart on your forsythia by cutting off some branches, bring them into the house, put the ends of the branches in a vase of warm

Ruth Montelius — Garden Editor — 474-3937

Some of the early Spring bulbs are making their appearance. Mrs. Keith Wagner, Walnut St., reports she had yellow crocus in bloom on March 15. Mrs. Donald Watt has had snowdrops in bloom and so has Mrs. Emmitt Barnhart.

Floyd Bartley reports he has found two mosses he has never seen before. He found these on Route 35 three miles north of Jackson. He and Emmitt Barnhart were out on a fossil hunting trip.

Speaking of Mr. Bartley, they had a grass fire that required the fire dept. Please be careful of burning trash and brush until we get more moisture. We are behind on rainfall and everything is tinder dry in the county.

The Darrell Hatfields report they are already busy with Spring planting, having planted a sweet gum tree, an oak tree and are in the midst of creating a natural area on their hillside with a wildlife packet. They water and in just a few days, they will be in full bloom; they will last for a week or two.

Economic Value Of Birds

Nature Notes Of Yesteryear

GARDEN EDITOR'S NOTE: As an added feature there will be a column from time to time of writings and notes of some of our prominent naturalists of the past who added so much to our counties' knowledge of nature. My grandfather, W. M. Reid devoted many years of his life to teaching, government, and nature study. There are many articles he has written that are still of interest today. I would like to share some of these with you.

In the early thirties a group of gentlemen who were interested in nature and conservation, went on nature hikes, mostly in Southern Ohio. This group consisted of Grant Swearingen, Leslie Pontius, Harry Stevenson, E. L. Daley, J. W. Johnson, W. M. Reid, and Floyd Bartley. This was one of the things that started Mr. Bartley on his famous career as a field botanist.

One of the first articles is one of birds entitled the "Economic Value of Birds." This was written in the early 1930's.

By THE LATE W. M. REID

Popular interest in birds is new in the history of the world.

Why the economic study was not sooner begun, I cannot understand. Birds have been classified since the time of Wilson and Audubon, but no study of their value to us economically has been made till within recent years.

Among the first acts passed in the Colonies were bounty laws, not only offering rewards for heads of certain birds but imposing fines for not killing a certain quota each year.

For 250 years this systematic destruction resulted in a loss to our agriculture, that is staggering in its immensity.

Men now living were absolutely the first to study the food of any one species of bird through an entire year, and in various sections of the country, and to pass scientific judgment upon it, only after laboratory tests of the contents of its stomach.

In 1885 the A. O. U. received a small sum to learn the real economic value of birds. The result of the research has been that not even the crow is as black as he has been painted. That only a few culprits among the hawks and owls stand convicted. Even the English sparrow has its supporters as a useful bird.

Most states have removed the bounties on hawks and owls. But our own State still pays for the scalps of some of our most useful birds, Dr. Fisher, after long research, finds but two of our hawks wholly injurious — Cooper's Hawk, and Sharp Skinned Hawk.

(Reid used the following classifications for birds.)

Air Sweepers: Swallows, Martins, Swifts, Night Hawks, Whippoorwills, Kingbirds — bee birds, Pewees, Phoebe's, Other flycatchers for large insects.

Foliage Caretakers: Warblers, eat larvae, lice ants; Vireos, cankerworms, hoppers, flies; Thrashers, Bluebirds, Wrens, Orioles, Catbirds, Cuckoos.

Bark Caretakers: Woodpeckers, Browncreepers, Chickadees.

Weed Destroyers: Sparrows, Goldfinch, Juncos.

Rascals in Birddom: Coopers Hawk, Sharp Skinned Hawk, Crow, Jay, House Sparrow.

Since 50 per cent of our birds have disappeared, why not keep what we have and bring about an increase.

Secret Talks With Hanoi Stay Secret

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has given fresh impetus to the growing belief that the private talks he favors for ending the Vietnam war already are under way.

But in doing so, the President made it clear he wants to keep those talks—whether they actually have begun or are about to—as secret as possible.

"That kind of negotiation cannot take place in a goldfish bowl," Nixon told the National Association of Broadcasters Tuesday in an off-the-cuff speech.

The President, however, came to the convention obviously anxious to talk about private negotiations to end the war.

"I can tell you," he said, "that it is our conviction and our belief that it is through private talks with the North Vietnamese and others involved that the real progress toward peace will be made."

Nixon went on to say that if anyone in the administration is asked "as to whether private talks should begin, as to what has occurred, we will say nothing."

Although this seemed to indicate full-scale private negotiations were not actually now under way but were about to start, the President commented a little later on:

"We think we are on the right track, but we are not going to raise false hopes. We are not going to tell you what is going on in private talks."

Nixon's comments on secret negotiations were the first public remarks by an administration official since Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird told a subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last Friday that peace was being sought "not only through formal diplomatic channels formally in Paris, but privately as well."

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The dedicated doctor, after a long absence from the nighttime television, is on his way back. And ABC, by good luck or shrewd foresight, has "Marcus Welby, M.D." signed up for next season, a good time to have a doctor in the house.

There are plentiful signs that the barrage of criticism from Washington will effect next season's action output in television in an earlier period when TV violence was under attack, the public grew to know and love that brooding neurosurgeon Ben Casey, and the earnest hospital resident, Dr. Kildare.

Dr. Welby who made his first house call Wednesday night when the series pilot—all two hours of it—was shown, is something else. This devoted doctor is middle-aged, a widower with a daughter who married in the pilot, and the victim of a heart attack at the beginning of the program. What's more, he's a general practitioner—perhaps show business' first since Dr. Christian.

A series about a doctor has built-in advantages. In their daily work they deal with the drama of life and death. Where the Western or private eye series might draw critical fire for gunplay or fights, a doctor's involvement with his patients is less likely to attract that kind of attention.

The feature-length pilot film that introduced Rober Young in the title role suffered from the ailments that afflict most of these two-hour double-duty shows. It was full of bits and pieces that demonstrated the directions the series might move into but did not work well into a single show.

Dr. Welby not only had his own health problems but was busy trying to persuade a young doctor—on the rugged Vince Edwards style—to become a family physician instead of a specialist. He also was treating an assortment of patients with an assortment of ailments. They ranged from a young man who had lost all speech except one word to an overweight teenager who was cheating on her diet.

William Holden's first program in his CBS "Unconquered Worlds" series was a document on wild life conservation in Africa, and a program of a superior quality.

It was a report on a trip to a huge lake in northern Kenya. Its shores are inhabited by primitive tribes, some of whom still hunt with spears.

One especially interesting segment showed efforts to save the ostrich in the area after it had been hunted almost to extinction. The job was primarily that of re-educating the men of the Turkana tribe to protect rather than kill the big birds—a delicate business since to the tribesmen, the plume of the ostrich is a symbol of manhood.

Another unusual segment showed ceremonies initiating young men as tribe warriors. Generally the film and the subject matter were fascinating. The script and narration, however, were standard travel-talk.

U.S. Leaders Still Believe Long Road To Peace Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite recurrent reports of private negotiations to end the Vietnam war, administration leaders foresee a long, frustrating path to peace and fear impatience can weaken the U.S. bargaining power.

This was the view of a State Department official on the eve of Secretary of State William P. Rogers' first appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today for a report on the whole spectrum of foreign policy.

OSU Blasted By Leaders Of Branches

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Supporters of bills to make the Lima and Mansfield branches of Ohio State University four year colleges by 1971 have accused OSU of stunting their growth.

Former state senator Foss Pebble of Lima told the Senate Education Committee Wednesday night "to cut us loose" from OSU and "watch our enrollment grow."

Pebble, the force behind getting a branch located in Lima nine years ago, said the school "hasn't been given a good deal by OSU."

"I have humbled myself to that university... and done everything under the sun to get third and fourth year work at Lima," he said.

Pebble says "it makes my blood boil" everytime he thinks of the salary being paid OSU President Novice G. Fawcett, who he feels is only concerned about the Columbus campus and its students.

He argued in favor of small colleges and said that "you have the riots at the super-big schools."

Sen. Robert J. Corts, R-13 Elyria said Mansfield has received similar "treatment" from OSU.

The official, speaking to a group of newsmen, said negotiations to end the war will take a considerable amount of time and warned that the side which is most impatient usually comes off second best.

This cautious view came at a time of rising optimism, given impetus earlier this week when President Nixon indicated in a Washington speech that private talks—which he favors as the best way to end the war—might already be under way.

But even while the cautious view was being put out at a high level, optimistic reports remained alive.

A responsible congressional official said he had been informed private talks were being held outside Paris where the formal negotiations have been going on—apparently fruitlessly—for three months.

This official said the private sessions were showing some promise of possible early development.

The State Department official said he believed that North Vietnam had not yet accepted the principle of an independent South Vietnam. South Viet-name independence is a declared objective of the United States in the war and in peace negotiations.

The official, who could not be named under rules of the briefing, said the administration's policy is to do everything possible to get a negotiated peace, covering a mutual withdrawal of all outside forces from South Vietnam and a secure boundary between the North and South.

The settlement, he said, should also include firm agreements to end troop infiltration from North to South Vietnam over the jungle trails or neighboring Laos. He picture "security for Laos as essential to a durable settlement in Vietnam."

Mrs. Thelma Deyo and sister, Mrs. Mary Thomas of Huntington, W. Va., spent Monday of last week with Mrs. Lillian Nance and enjoyed dinner at the Harvest House restaurant.

Folks around here will be sorry to hear that Foster Hall, a former resident of Derby, fell recently and suffered a broken hip. He is a patient in Lake County Memorial Hospital, — W. Room No. 207N Painesville, Ohio 44077. I'm sure he would enjoy very much hearing from his friends here during his stay in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dawson and children were the Friday overnight guests of Mrs. Dawson's mother, Mrs. Martha Bloomfield, at her home in Ironton, Ohio. On Saturday they attended a family gathering there, a surprise birthday celebration at which 45 were present. The occasion honored Mrs. Mayfield on her 59th birthday.

Birthdays to date include: Linda Vance and Mike Allen, and Manford Picklesimer, all on March 24; Rhonda Furniss and Betty Bauhan, March 28; Johnny Furniss, Robbie Fitzgerald and Joetta Mettler, all March 29.

Drops Crutches To Save Toddler

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A man recovering from a broken leg threw aside his crutches Wednesday and sprinted 150 yards to help save 2-year-old Ernie Land who had fallen into the Jordan River.

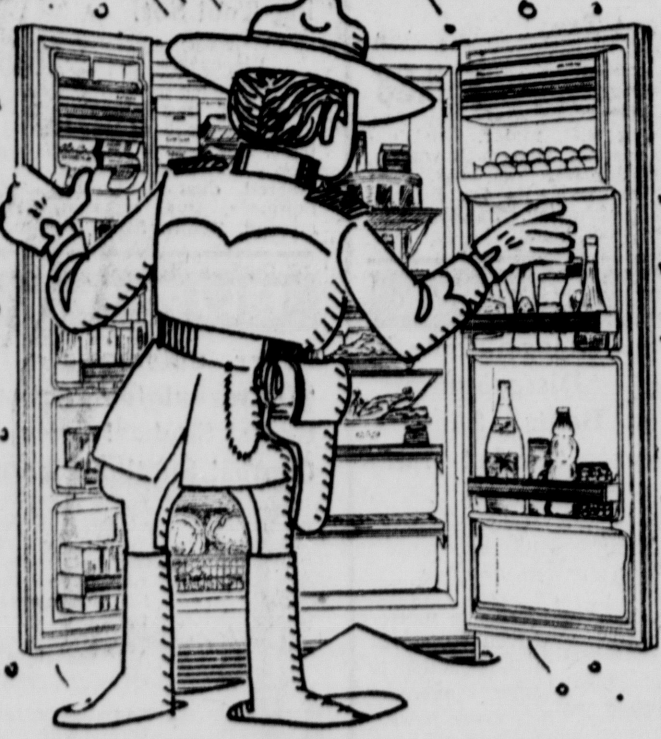

Police said Charles Brown raced to the assistance of Byron Farnsworth who had become stuck in the muddy river bottom.

Brown, a former Army medic, then applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and revived the boy. Police said the youngster apparently fell into the stream while playing.

No Speedy Refund

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The district Internal Revenue Service said Wednesday that 12,631 Southern Californians who filed early in hopes of getting a speedy refund on their federal income tax, forgot to sign the return. The forms are being returned for the signatures.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) —The dedicated doctor, after a long absence from the nighttime television, is on his way back. And ABC, by good luck or shrewd foresight, has "Marcus Welby, M.D." signed up for next season, a good time to have a doctor in the house.

There are plentiful signs that the barrage of criticism from Washington will effect next season's action output in television. In an earlier period when TV violence was under attack, the public grew to know and love that brooding neurosurgeon Ben Casey, and the earnest hospital resident, Dr. Kildare.

Dr. Welby who made his first house call Wednesday night when the series pilot—all two hours of it—was shown, is something else. This devoted doctor is middle-aged, a widower with a daughter who married in the pilot, and the victim of a heart attack at the beginning of the program. What's more, he's a general practitioner—perhaps show business' first since Dr. Christian.

A series about a doctor has built-in advantages. In their daily work they deal with the drama of life and death. Where the Western or private eye series might draw critical fire for gun-play or fights, a doctor's involvement with his patients is less likely to attract that kind of attention.

The feature-length pilot film that introduced Robert Young in the title role suffered from the ailments that afflict most of these two-hour double-duty shows. It was full of bits and pieces that demonstrated the directions the series might move into but did not work well into a single show.

Dr. Welby not only had his own health problems but was busy trying to persuade a young doctor—on the rugged Vince Edwards style—to become a family physician instead of a specialist. He also was treating an assortment of patients with an assortment of ailments. They ranged from a young man who had lost all speech except one word to an overweight teen-ager who was cheating on her diet.

William Holden's first program in his CBS "Unconquered Worlds" series was a document on wild life conservation in Africa, and a program of a superior quality.

It was a report on a trip to a huge lake in northern Kenya. Its shores are inhabited by primitive tribes, some of whom still hunt with spears.

One especially interesting segment showed efforts to save the ostrich in the area after it had been hunted almost to extinction. The job was primarily that of re-educating the men of the Turkana tribe to protect rather than kill the big birds—a delicate business since to the tribesmen, the plume of the ostrich is a symbol of manhood.

Another unusual segment showed ceremonies initiating young men as tribe warriors. Generally the film and the subject matter were fascinating. The script and narration, however, were standard travel-talk.

U.S. Leaders Still Believe Long Road To Peace Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite recurrent reports of private negotiations to end the Vietnam war, administration leaders foresee a long, frustrating path to peace and fear impatience can weaken the U.S. bargaining power.

This was the view of a State Department official on the eve of Secretary of State William P. Rogers' first appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today for a report on the whole spectrum of foreign policy.

OSU Blasted By Leaders Of Branches

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Supporters of bills to make the Lima and Mansfield branches of Ohio State University four year colleges by 1971 have accused OSU of stunting their growth.

Former state senator Foss Peble of Lima told the Senate Education Committee Wednesday night "to cut us loose" from OSU and "watch our enrollment grow."

Peble, the force behind getting a branch located in Lima nine years ago, said the school "hasn't been given a good deal by OSU."

"I have humbled myself to that university... and done everything under the sun to get third and fourth year work at Lima," he said.

Peble says "it makes my blood boil" everytime he thinks of the salary being paid OSU President Novice G. Fawcett, who he feels is only concerned about the Columbus campus and its students.

He argued in favor of small colleges and said that "you have the riots at the super-big schools."

Sen. Robert J. Corts, R - 13 Elyria said Mansfield has received similar "treatment" from OSU.

Child Actor Flees Blaze At Home

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Child actor Darby Hinton, 11, who appears in the "Daniel Boone" television series, fled from his Bel-Air home Wednesday night as flames roared through the rambling one-story house.

Darby, his brother Warren, 14, and a neighborhood girl escaped injury but firemen estimated damage at $100,000. The interior was heavily charred.

Firemen say the blaze may have been started by an electrical short.

Westfall Baseball Squad Favored To Retain Title

Westfall baseball coach Paul Hoskins welcomed back a host of returning lettermen when he opened his practice sessions recently.

Winners of the Scioto Valley Conference championship for the past two years, the powerful Mustangs are favored to repeat their performance this season.

Hoskins lost only two regulars from last year's championship team. The Mustangs had an overall record of 14 wins, two losses and one tie in 1968. They were the sectional tournament champions.

Westfall has compiled a 4-year record of 54 wins, 16 losses and one tie.

THE only missing lettermen from last year's squad are Andy Hamman, the rightfielder, who graduated, and Ed Cornwell, pitcher-outfielder, who is not playing because of a knee injury that kept him off the basketball court most of the winter.

Heading the list of returning veterans is Gene Carrey, the team's leading pitcher and hitter. A strong righthanded thrower, Carrey had a 9-1 pitching record last year. He has been a starting pitcher for Hoskins since he was a freshman. Bating left-handed, Carrey batted out hits at a .470 rate in 1967.

When not pitching, he is the team's third baseman.

John Furniss, a senior catcher who is also starting for the fourth year for Hoskins, gives Westfall what may well be the finest battery in central Ohio.

"He is the best catcher I have ever had," says Hoskins, a veteran of 11 years in the baseball coaching trade.

FURNISS, in addition to being one of the finest defensive receivers in Central Ohio, can wield a strong bat. He hit at a .385 rate last year.

Bill Blair, a junior, returns to his familiar positions of third base and pitcher. He is the hurler that Hoskins may use when Carrey is not on the mound. Blair had a .324 batting average last year.

Adding depth to the pitching corps are Greg Bigam, a regular shortstop last year, who batted .306 in 1967; Tony Lightle, the regular first baseman, who can throw although his pitching experience has been limited to summer baseball; and Randy Alkire, a sophomore who has been working out on the mound.

Rick Redman, a .265 hitter returns to man the second base position that he held last year.

The Westfall infield is one of the best in the league with all regular starters of a year ago back to man their familiar positions.

In the outfield, Westfall has Pat Whaley, a .323 slugger, returning.

IN addition to Whaley, Hoskins will have available for outfield duty Jack Moore, a senior who played as a sophomore but not as a junior; Jay Writsel, a junior who played as a freshman but not last year; and Rick Maurer, a junior who can play just about anywhere on the squad.

Westfall has a full schedule of 19 games, including a doubleheader with Madison South Saturday, and two games in the Southeastern High School Invitational tournament April 26.

Two of the games on the schedule are night events. On May 8 the Mustangs host Teays Valley at 7:30 p.m. and on May 13 they host Logan Elm at 7:30 p.m. Here is the complete schedule:

March 29 Madison South (DH), 1 p.m.
April 3 at Teays Valley
April 7 Piketon
April 15 at Logan Elm
April 18 Adena
April 23 at Union
April 24 Paint Valley
April 26 Southeastern Tournament (two games) 11 p.m.
April 29 at Laurelville
May 1 at Madison South
May 6 Union
May 8 Teays Valley, 7:30 p.m.
May 13 Logan Elm, 7:30 p.m.
May 16 at Paint Valley
May 19 at Piketon
May 22 at Adena
May 27 Laurelville

Tigers Still Have Some Problems

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Al Kaline's hot spring, Mickey Stanley's arm trouble and Tom Matchick's so-so play at shortstop have left unsolved a few of the Detroit Tigers' problems.

Kaline, playing as though determined to escape the role of a $95,000 part time player, has been matting all pitching in Florida. At the age of 34, Kaline resents any suggestion that he can not be in the lineup every day.

Manager Mayo Smith had expected to see more of Stanley at shortstop during the spring games but a strained arm, has delayed the plan. Stanley has been in center field most of the spring.

Matchick, having trouble at the bat in the exhibitions, has not been impressive at shortstop. He still is in the battle for the job along with Dick Trecewski.

Pacers Defeat Stars, 134-123, In ABA Clash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
With the end of the regular season only a week away, the Indiana Pacers seem virtually certain of winning the Eastern Division championship in the American Basketball Association.

The Pacers put on a second-half rally to beat the Los Angeles Stars 134-123 Wednesday night. That put the Pacers three games ahead of second-place Kentucky with only two games left for them to play.

Indiana has a 44-32 won-lost mark. Kentucky is 39-33 with six games to play, a factor which puts added pressure on the Colonnels in the stretch drive.

Oakland, already the Western Divisions champs, similarly rallied to beat Houston for a 131-124 victory in the other ABA game scheduled.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

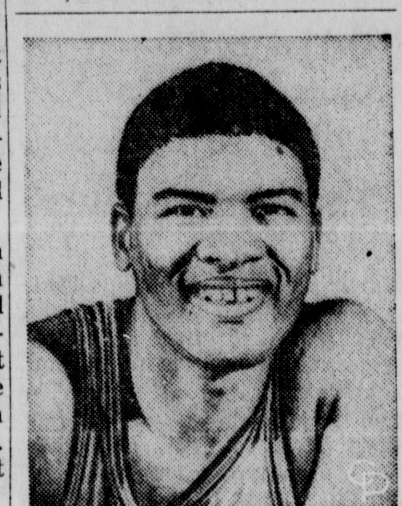

Bill Freeham's broken nose also has provided some problems for the Tigers this spring. The All-Star catcher was put out of action for at least two weeks when his nose was shattered during batting practice. Although Freeham is due to be ready for the opener he will have missed valuable work.

Except for shortstop, this is a set ball club. Norm Cash on first, Dick McAuliffe at second and Don Wert at third are fixtures. Willie Horton is in left with Stanley in center unless he goes to short. In that case Jim Northrup will move to center. Kaline just has to be the right fielder.

Ron Woods, a rookie from Toledo, may win an extra outfield job although Wayne Redmond, a Montgomery farm grad, has been hitting the ball with power. Dave Campbell, another Toledo product, may fit in as a general handy man in the infield.

The pitching rotation already has been established with Denny McLain, the 31-game winner;

Mickey Lolich, the World Series hero, Earl Wilson and Joe Spar-

ROOKIE IS TOPS—Westley Unseld, 6'7" rookie center of the Baltimore team in the National Basketball Association, has been named the league's Most Valuable Player. He is the first rookie to be so honored since Wilt Chamberlain won the award.

ma working in order. Pat Dobson and John Hiller figure to be the long relief men but Smith has been having a tough time deciding on his short relief crew. He went to camp with four veterans in that category. Don McMahon, non-roster player Dick Radatz, Elroy Face and John Wyatt.

Only two are due to escape the axe.

Of the young pitchers the best lookers are a pair of left-handers. They are Mike Kilkenny, a Canadian from Bradford, Ont., and Fred Scherman who had a 1.76 earned run record in Toledo.

"Everybody ask me about complacency," said Smith. "I see no signs of it. The guys have had a taste of winning and they want to win again just as much as the last time."

Columbus Schools Gaining Power In Cage Competition

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus city schools, with five championships in the last seven years, appear to have wrestled control from southwest district teams in their quest for high school basketball supremacy.

But no one is even close to approaching the remarkable record claimed by southwestern schools—22 Class AA titles in the 47-year history of the state high school basketball tournament.

The central district has nine championships; the northeast and east six apiece while the northwest and southeast have both reached the throne room only twice.

Eleven cities across the state have combined to win 41 of the 47 titles. Schools in Dayton lead the parade with eight championships. Mighty Middletown has won seven and Columbus six.

Hamilton follows with 4 crowns, followed by Newark and Akron, 3 each, and Zanesville, Cleveland, Dover, Springfield and on an individual school basis Middletown's Middies lead the parade with seven championships. Columbus East, which only last Saturday capped its second straight crown, now owns four titles, as does Dayton Stivers, the only school to capture three straight, in 1928, 1929 and 1930. Stivers also won in 1924.

Hamilton, which went out of business in 1959 with the opening of Hamilton Taft and Garfield, has prevailed three times as has Newark.

Zanesville, Dover, Akron

North, Springfield, now Springfield South, Portsmouth, Cleveland East Tech and Dayton Roosevelt have come out on top twice.

The longest drought in the state is in the northwest district which has not had a winner since Findlay took the honor 21 years ago. The eastern district hasn't won since 1955 and the Northeast since Cleveland East Tech copped back-to-back titles in 1958-1959.

Schools that can lay claim to at least winning once are Xenia Central; Akron West; Lorain; New Philadelphia; Martins Ferry; Columbus South; Columbus Linden-McKinley; Dayton Belmont; Dayton Chaminade; Findlay; Bellevue and Hamilton Taft.

Among cities still striving for their first Double-A crown include Toledo, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Lima, Canton, Warren, Massillon, Steubenville, Mansfield, Marion, Elyria, Parma, Euclid, Sandusky and Alliance.

Maple Leafs Top Montreal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Just as the Montreal Canadiens were getting ready to celebrate, the Toronto Maple Leafs threw a damper ... and six goals ... on the party.

The Canadiens, needing a victory to clinch the National Hockey League's East Division championship, hopped into a 3-0 lead in the first 13 minutes of play Wednesday night and then watched Toronto steal the celebration with a rally that produced six goals and a 6-4 victory.

The Montreal loss kept Boston's chances alive for catching the Canadiens. The second-place Bruins must sweep their three remaining games—including two against Montreal—to wipe out the four-point Canadiens' lead.

Elsewhere Wednesday night, Chicago whipped New York 6-4, Pittsburgh rapped Los Angeles 8-4 and St. Louis turned back Oakland 5-3.

Baltimore's Dave McNally set six Orioles pitching records last season when he won 22 games. He was 14-2 after the All-Star break.

Westfall Baseball Squad Favored To Retain Title

Westfall baseball coach Paul Hoskins welcomed back a host of returning lettermen when he opened his practice sessions recently.

Winners of the Scioto Valley Conference championship for the past two years, the powerful Mustangs are favored to repeat their performance this season.

Hoskins lost only two regulars from last year's championship team. The Mustangs had an overall record of 14 wins, two losses and one tie in 1965. They were the sectional tournament champions.

Westfall has compiled a 4-year record of 54 wins, 16 losses and one tie.

THE only missing letterman from last year's squad are Andy Hamman, the rightfielder, who graduated, and Ed Cornwell, pitcher-outfield, who is not playing because of a knee injury that kept him off the basketball court most of the winter.

Heading the list of returning veterans is Gene Carfrey, the team's leading pitcher and hitter. A strong righthanded thrower, Carfrey had a 9-1 pitching record last year. He has been a starting pitcher for Hoskins since he was a freshman. Bating left-handed, Carfrey batted out hits at a .470 rate in 1967.

When not pitching, he is the team's third baseman.

John Furniss, a senior catcher who is also starting for the fourth year for Hoskins, gives Westfall what may well be the finest battery in central Ohio.

"He is the best catcher I have ever had," says Hoskins, a veteran of 11 years in the baseball coaching trade.

FURNISS, in addition to being one of the finest defensive receivers in Central Ohio, can wield a strong bat. He hit at a .385 rate last year.

Bill Blair, a junior, returns to his familiar positions of third base and pitcher. He is the hurler that Hoskins may use when Carfrey is not on the mound. Blair had a .324 batting average last year.

Adding depth to the pitching corps are Greg Bigam, a regular shortstop last year, who batted .306 in 1967; Tony Lightle, the regular first baseman, who can throw although his pitching experience has been limited to summer baseball; and Randy Alkire, a sophomore who has been working out on the mound.

Rick Redman, a .265 hitter returns to man the second base position that he held last year.

The Westfall infield is one of the best in the league with all regular starters of a year ago back to man their familiar positions.

In the outfield, Westfall has Pat Whaley, a .523 slugger, returning.

IN addition to Whaley, Hoskins will have available for outfield duty Jack Moore, a senior who played as a sophomore but not as a junior; Jay Writsel, a junior who played as a freshman but not last year, and Rick Maurer, a junior who can play just about anywhere on the squad.

Westfall has a full schedule of 19 games, including a doubleheader with Madison South Saturday, and two games in the Southeastern High School Invitational tournament April 26.

Two of the games on the schedule are night events. On May 8 the Mustangs host Teays Valley at 7:30 p.m. and on May 13 they host Logan Elm at 7:30 p.m. Here is the complete schedule:

March 29 Madison South (DH), 1 p.m.
April 3 at Teays Valley
April 7 Piketon
April 15 at Logan Elm
April 18 Adena
April 23 at Unioto
April 24 Paint Valley
April 26 Southeastern Tournament (two games) 11 p.m.
April 29 at Laurelville
May 1 at Madison South
May 6 Unioto
May 8 Teays Valley, 7:30 p.m.
May 13 Logan Elm, 7:30 p.m.
May 16 at Paint Valley
May 19 at Piketon
May 22 at Adena
May 27 Laurelville

Tigers Still Have Some Problems

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Al Kaline's hot spring, Mickey Stanley's arm trouble and Tom Matchick's so-so play at shortstop have left unsolved a few of the Detroit Tigers' problems.

Kaline, playing as though determined to escape the role of a $95,000 part time player, has been macing all pitching in Florida. At the age of 34, Kaline resents any suggestion that he can not be in the lineup every day.

Manager Mayo Smith had expected to see more of Stanley at shortstop during the spring games but a strained arm, has delayed the plan. Stanley has been in center field most of the spring.

Matchick, having trouble at the bat in the exhibitions, has not been impressive at shortstop. He still is in the battle for the job along with Dick Tracawski.

Pacers Defeat Stars, 134-123, In ABA Clash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
With the end of the regular season only a week away, the Indiana Pacers seem virtually certain of winning the Eastern Division championship in the American Basketball Association.

The Pacers put on a second-half rally to beat the Los Angeles Stars 134-123 Wednesday night. That put the Pacers three games ahead of second-place Kentucky with only two games left for them to play.

Indiana has a 44-32 won-lost mark. Kentucky is 39-33 with six games to play, a factor which puts added pressure on the Colonels in the stretch drive.

Oakland, already the Western Divisions champs, similarly rallied to beat Houston for a 131-124 victory in the other ABA game scheduled.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

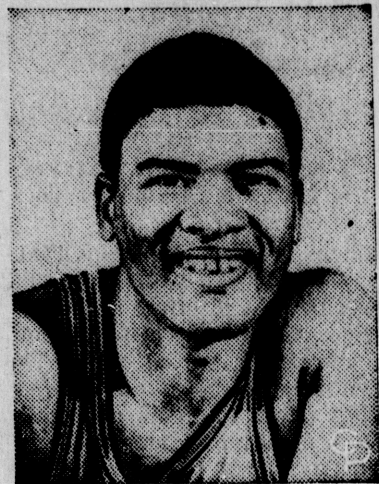

Bill Freeham's broken nose, Mickey Lolich, the World Series hero, Earl Wilson and Joe Spar-

ma working in order. Pat Dobson and John Hiller figure to be the long relief men but Smith has been having a tough time deciding on his short relief crew. He went to camp with four veterans in that category, Don McMahon, non-roster player Dick Radatz, Elroy Face and John Wyatt.

Only two are due to escape the axe.

Of the young pitchers the best lookers are a pair of left-handers. They are Mike Kilkenny, a Canadian from Bradford, Ont., and Fred Scherman who had a 1.76 earned run record in Toledo.

"Everybody ask me about complacency," said Smith. "I see no signs of it. The guys have had a taste of winning and they want to win again just as much as the last time."

ROOKIE IS TOPS — Westley Unseld, 6'7" rookie center of the Baltimore team in the National Basketball Association, has been named the league's Most Valuable Player. He is the first rookie to be so honored since Wilt Chamberlain won the award.

Columbus Schools Gaining Power In Cage Competition

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus city schools, with five championships in the last seven years, appear to have wrestled control from southwestern district teams in their quest for high school basketball supremacy.

But no one is even close to approaching the remarkable record claimed by southwestern schools—22 Class AA titles in the 47-year history of the state high school basketball tournament.

The central district has nine championships; the northeast and east six apiece while the northwest and southeast have both reached the throne room only twice.

Eleven cities across the state have combined to win 41 of the 47 titles. Schools in Dayton lead the parade with eight championships. Mighty Middletown has won seven and Columbus six.

Hamilton follows with 4 crowns, followed by Newark and Akron, 3 each, and Zanesville, Cleveland, Dover, Springfield. On an individual school basis Middletown's Middies lead the parade with seven championships. Columbus East, which only last Saturday copped its second straight crown, now owns four titles, as does Dayton Stivers, the only school to capture three straight, in 1928, 1929 and 1930. Stivers also won in 1924.

Hamilton, which went out of business in 1959 with the opening of Hamilton Taft and Garfield, has prevailed three times as has Newark.

Zanesville, Dover, Akron

North, Springfield, now Springfield South, Portsmouth, Cleveland East Tech and Dayton Roosevelt have come out on top twice.

The longest drought in the state is in the northwest district which has not had a winner since Findlay took the honor 21 years ago. The eastern district hasn't won since 1955 and the Northeast since Cleveland East Tech copped back-to-back titles in 1958-1959.

Schools that can lay claim to at least winning once are Xenia Central; Akron West; Lorain; New Philadelphia; Martins Ferry; Columbus South; Columbus Linden-McKinley; Dayton Belmont; Dayton Chamainade; Findlay; Bellevue and Hamilton Taft.

Among cities still striving for their first Double-A crown include Toledo, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Lima, Canton, Warren, Massillon, Steubenville, Mansfield, Marion, Elyria, Parma, Euclid, Sandusky and Alliance.

Maple Leafs Top Montreal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Just as the Montreal Canadiens were getting ready to celebrate, the Toronto Maple Leafs threw a damper ... and six goals ... on the party.

The Canadiens, needing a victory to clinch the National Hockey League's East Division championship, hopped into a 3-0 lead in the first 13 minutes of play Wednesday night and then watched Toronto steal the celebration with a rally that produced six goals and a 6-4 victory.

The Montreal loss kept Boston's chances alive for catching the Canadiens. The second-place Bruins must sweep their three remaining games—including two against Montreal—to wipe out the four-point Canadiens' lead.

Elsewhere Wednesday night, Chicago whipped New York 6-4, Pittsburgh rapped Los Angeles 8-4 and St. Louis turned back Oakland 5-3.

Baltimore's Dave McNally set six Oriole pitching records last season when he won 22 games. He was 14-2 after the All-Star break.

Gene Littler Back On Tour; Seeks Masters Practice

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Gene Littler is back on the golf tour today after a month's idleness but it isn't that $40,000 first prize that has lured him from the home comforts of La Jolla, Calif.

"I thought I should get a couple of tournaments under my belt before the Masters," the mild-mannered, 38-year-old stylist explained. "Sure, I like to win money but there are other things more important. I don't let it rule my life."

Littler, who with $52,428 was the year's leading money winner until overtaken by Miller Barber last week, is one of the favorites in the $200,000 National Airlines Open, starting today over the country club of Miami.

Of all the affluent pros, who strut around in their expensive slacks and fleecy sweaters, Littler is the most inconspicuous and perhaps the most underrated, although he has won 21 tournaments and is reputed to have the soundest swing in the business. This year he won at Phoenix and finished second at San Diego, collecting $37,500 in two weeks.

"I suppose I could have made a bigger name for myself, won more championships and more money," the Californian said.

"I just never needed that much money or that much fame. I think a man owes something to his family. So I try to win as much money as I need and then I take off to be with my wife and two children."

"People say I didn't have the desire," Littler said. "If they meant I wouldn't let golf completely saturate my life, they are correct. I like golf. I like to win. But to me it is just a job like going to the office from nine to five. I refuse to become a captive of the game."

Yates Wins Culver Free Throw Award

The son of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Yates, 126 E. Mound St., is a junior at Culver and was elected co-captain of next year's team.

Yates hit 21 of 31 free throws attempted for an average of .677. He totalled 109 points and 56 rebounds in 18 varsity games. Coach Tom Baker's Eagles had their best season in 17 years, ending with a 14-4 record.

Boston, SF Win Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics are alive and well in the National Basketball Association after all. And by the way, so are the San Francisco Warriors.

Both teams, bothered by key injuries most of the regular season, looked dead after disappointing finishes in the standings. But nothing revitalizes a team like the playoffs, and the Celtics and Warriors were alive and winging Wednesday night.

Boston surprised Philadelphia 114-100 behind Bill Russell in the opener of their best-of-seven Eastern Division semifinal, while the Warriors stunned Los Angeles 99-94 in their Western semi opener. And both victories came on the road.

The other semis begin tonight when the New York Knicks travel to Baltimore in the East and San Diego plays at Atlanta in the West.

Expect 50 Runners In Athens Marathon

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — An estimated 50 runners are expected to participate in Sunday's Athens Marathon, a 26-mile, 385-yard race.

The race, which starts at Coolville, has attracted runners from Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia, Ohio and Canada. The finish line is in Ohio University's Peden Stadium.

The marathon, sponsored by the Hockhocking Track Club of Athens and sanctioned by the AAU for runners 18 and over, was won last year by Albert Sewell of Cincinnati.

Murcer Leads Yankees Over Detroit, 7-2

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bobby Murcer has come marching home again and the New York Yankees are shouting hurrah, hurrah.

Murcer is the same kid who was getting the raves two years ago in spring training when the New York Yankees had him ticketed to fill their shortstop void. But the 20-year-old infielder wound up playing soldier for the U.S. Army instead for the next two years.

Now he is back and nothing has changed, except his position. Murcer now is playing third base, but the cheers still remain, particularly after he rapped his 21st and 22nd hits of the spring Wednesday in the Yankees 7-2 exhibition victory over Detroit.

Several other rookies also had hot hands as Larry Hise slugged two three-run homers and Ron Stone rapped a homer, two doubles and a single in Philadelphia's 11-1 rout of Houston.

Wayne Garrett slugged two solo homers for the New York Mets in a 6-3 decision over Cincinnati, and Rudy May hurled seven shutout innings as California blasted Oakland 9-3.

In other games, Minnesota edged Los Angeles 4-3, the Chicago White Sox nipped Pittsburgh 2-1, St. Louis tripped Boston 2-1, Baltimore beat Washington 3-2, the Chicago Cubs blasted Cleveland 10-0 and San Francisco outslugged Seattle 7-5.

Rain canceled Kansas City's game against Atlanta and Montreal's contest with the Yankees B team.

In the two years Murcer was gone, the Yankees tried several shortstop before settling on Tom Tresh, but Murcer hasn't let that bother him. He has all but taken the third base job from incumbent Bob Cox after slugging his fourth spring homer and a dolo against the Tigers.

"It's a lot different now than when I was here in 1966," said

Murcer now 22. "Maybe I was too young then and couldn't believe I was here. Now I feel like a vet."

"I've never had any worries about my hitting. That's always been the best part of my game."

Another rookie, pitcher Bill Burbach, pitched the first six innings and allowed just one hit for the Yanks.

McDowell Bombed As Cubs Win, 10-0

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Chicago Cubs pounded Cleveland's ace southpaw Sam McDowell for 11 hits and eight runs in five innings Wednesday enroute to a 10-0 exhibition victory.

Indian bats were silenced by Ken Holtzman, who gave up only three hits, struck out six, and walked none in seven innings. Ted Abernathy then shut out the Tribe in the last two innings on one hit.

Chris Short allowed one run and five hits in six innings for the Phillies. Hise leads the Phillies with three homers and 14 runs batted in while Stone is moving along with a .488 average.

Garrett, trying for a utility spot on the Mets' roster, backed up the six-inning shutout pitching of Jim McAndrew. Alex Johnson's three-run homer in the eighth accounted for Cincinnati's runs.

May, a 24-year-old southpaw who the Angels got for Bo Belinsky in 1964, virtually clinched a spot in the rotation while teammate Vic Davalillo drove in four runs.

Ted Uhlaender capped a three-run ninth inning with a two-run single for Minnesota's victory, and the White Sox scored twice in the first inning on two hits, a passed ball and a walk.

St. Louis won on run-scoring doubles by Vada Pinson and Tim McCarver in the fourth inning, and Baltimore scored twice in the eighth on rookie Bobby Floyd's single and an error to overcome Frank Howard's first spring homer for the Senators.

Ken Holtzman, backed by 16 hits and a six-run fourth inning against Sam McDowell, yielded only three hits in seven innings for the Cubs. Juan Marichal picked up San Francisco's victory, although he allowed five hits and four runs in seven innings.

Dark Horses Win AAU Cage Contests

MACON, Ga. (AP) — College kids catch on quickly, so it's no surprise to see Stephen F. Austin and West Virginia State barging into the ranks of the contenders for the National AAU Basketball Tournament title.

The two free-wheeling college clubs put on dazzling shows in the first round and won roles as dark-horse challengers for the championship with their efforts.

Annual Lily Day Sale Set Saturday In Circleville

FIRST SALE — Members of the SOS Club of Circleville High School make the first Easter Seal Lily sale to Circleville Mayor Richard Gerhardt. The sale will be conducted Saturday. Shown above with the mayor are, from the left, Debbie Dick, Beverly May and Sandy Rich.

Richard E. Plum, Easter Seal Campaign chairman, announced today that the enthusiastic SOS Club members of Circleville High School are urging the public to be generous in their support of the Annual Lily Day Sale which will be taking place on the streets of Circleville Saturday.

The Lily Day event is sponsored by the Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the Easter Seal Society, and it is a part of the Easter Seal Campaign which will be in progress until April 6.

Australian Woman Dies At Age 114

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Elizabeth Williams Berry of Helena, known as Mother Berry, was found dead Wednesday at her home. She was 114.

She was born in Melbourne, Australia, June 21, 1854. She was the widow of James D. Berry, a veterinarian whom she married Dec. 12, 1903, in Washington.

Mrs. Brobst and the SOS Club will be assisted by Mrs. Robert D. Wilson and Mrs. Manley Carothers from the Society. Miss Sandy Rich, Easter Seal Teen Queen, who is a member of the Club will also be assisting with the Lily Sale. Chairman and co-chairman of the club are Debbie Dick and Beverly May.

The SOS girls realize the need of the year around services which are provided by the Easter Seal Society to the handicapped children and adults in the community. They will be doing their part in helping the Society to reach its goal of $6,000 so that more handicapped persons might be rehabilitated.

ACCORDING to Plum all contributions large or small will prove very helpful to the Society as they endeavor to continue the year around services and add new services to their established program.

Plum also stated he has plans to distribute coin cards in the county schools on Monday. The cards will be collected at the end of the week. The slogan for the Campaign this year is "Your Money is Working — Crippled Children Can be Helped."

Ohio Faces Quarantine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department announced Wednesday that the entire state of Ohio will be placed under federal plant quarantine regulations April 1 because of infestations of cereal leaf beetles.

This means shipments of farm items such as hay, straw, fodder, litter, small grains, soybeans, corn and used harvesting machinery will be regulated.

Ohio now is regulated by state quarantines, but officials said federal supervision was deemed necessary to provide better enforcement.

All of Michigan, except the upper peninsula, and portions of Indiana, Pennsylvania and Illinois also are to be placed under federal quarantine regulations. Cereal leaf beetles are considered among the most harmful crop pests in the United States. They are particularly harmful to wheat, barley and oats.

Aquariums across the United States glow with an estimate of 650 million multicolored exotic fish — more than 10 times the dog and cat population.

Army Defends Controversial Tank

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says a tank under congressional attack as a "billion-dollar boo boo" has made a significant contribution in Vietnam combat operations.

The military came to the defense of the controversial Sheridan light tank after Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., charged this week that the Army hustled the weapon to Vietnam with "manifest defects and deficiencies."

The Sheridan program has been a "billion-dollar boo boo," Stratton charged. Hundreds are now sitting idle at Army depots throughout the country, he said, adding that the Sheridans in Vietnam are unsuited for the fighting.

The Army, however, said a command report from the war zone "reflects a very favorable assessment" after six weeks of battle use.

The Army told an inquiring newsman that troops equipped with the Sheridan—technically referred to as an arms reconnaissance vehicle—have accounted for 268 enemy soldiers killed and 11 captured.

"The trafficability, mobility, speed and firepower of the Sheridan have enabled it to make a significant contribution to combat operations," the Army stated.

"The problems that have been experienced during this early period appear to be minor when considered in the context of the system's overall performance."

Stratton thinks the Army didn't consider the problems small. On Tuesday, he noted that the Army has issued some 20 pages of restrictions on the Sheridan's operations. Some dealt with fuel tank leaks, clogged air vents, periscope failures and flamable cartridge case.

Stratton also said the reconnaissance tank was so noisy it could be heard for three miles and its heavy exhaust smoke made it an easy target.

The Army said the Sheridan was deployed to Vietnam without its new Shilleagh surface-to-surface missiles "due to the close quarters of most engagements in Vietnam and the absence of other armored targets."

The operation of the Sheridan's missile system has been subject to some question, but Lt. Gen. Austin Betts contended Tuesday the Shilleagh passed all its tests "with flying colors." Betts, the Army's chief of research and development, acknowledged, however, that "all the returns are not in. We won't know for another two years whether it was a mistake or whether it wasn't."

4 More Ohio Soldiers Die

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department reported Wednesday that the names of four more Ohioans have been placed on the list of Vietnam war dead.

Killed in action were Army Spec. 4 Thomas M. Struchan of New Philadelphia and Marine Pfc. John M. Goodwin of McArthur in Vinton County.

Listed as having died of wounds was Army Sgt. Carl H. Peters Jr. of Sylvania.

Changed from missing in action to dead of nonhostile causes was Army Spec. 4 Gerald R. Thompson of Logan.
